Democrats Have Given Up Claims For Illinois.

Ante-Election Predictions From Many Sections of the Country.

Chicago, Nov. 2.-The national headquarters of the Republican and Democratic parties were almost deserted yesterday. There was no business of importance to transact; members of the campaign committee and heads of departments had either gone home to vote or were preparing to leave the headquarters until after the decisive day and were at their desks for a short time only in the afternoon, while few visitors from outside Chicago strayed in to tell the political news or to be informed before going to their homes to vote. Chairman Hanna will remain at his Murder In Maine.

Rockland, Me., Nov. 2.—Orrin Mink, aged 24 years, shot and killed his brother, Edward, aged 22 years, during a row at North Waldoboro. Orrin is said to have concealed a keg of cider in his father's cellar. Edward found it, and when his brother went after it, most of the keg's contents had disappeared. Orrin accused Edward of the theft, and the latter did not deny it. Words followed, and then blows, Edward proving the stronger. from his brother, tried to enter the lat-don to Carlisle, a distance of 300 miles. door, and when Edward sought to force it open, Orrin discharged a shotgun directly at him, the charge taking effect. Just a seasonable word or two, to-day.

When you're buying, think about quality as well as price. Remember that the words "Axminster," 'Wilton," "Brussels," etc., can be made to cover a multitude of sins.

Remember, too, that our stock is far larger than that of any other Boston house, and that as nobody can possibly buy to better advantage than we can, it is reasonable to suppose that our ability to name very low selling figures is also unsurpassed. We are combining high quality with moderation in price, this Fall, more effectively than ever before.

This is the complaint of thousands at this season.

They have no appetite; food does not relish. They need the toning up of the stomach and digestive organs, which while at 8 30 but 97 votes had been cast it a course of Hood's Sarsaparilla will give them. It also purifies and enriches the blood, cures that distress after eating and internal misery only a dyspeptic can know, creates an appetite, overcomes that tired feeling and builds up and sustains the whole physical system. It so promptly and efficiently relieves dyspeptic sympseems to have almost "a magic touch."

they could legally commence to count the A Late Tour of the Polling P aces of the City.

Ward One is doing herself proud today, no doubt about when they will begin to and is polling a large vote, the number cast at 2 o'clock being 562, while the election officers had completed the count on over precinct are: Warden, Thomas J. That this ward will go strong for McKinley there can be no doubt Fuller, John Burke, James Rooney and John Williams, while Officers Barry and majority of 350 in this ward alone. majority of 350 in this ward alone.

At 12.30 the number of votes cast in At Precinct Two, the election officers Ward Two was 318. This ward is a little behind the other wards of the city in the matter of counting and this will probably be the last ward to be heard from tonight. Some of the election officers did not like to commence counting on an empty stomach and therefor the tedious job counting was not commenced until 1 o'clock. Precinct One of Ward Three had cast 308 votes at 1 30 o'clock and at that hour the booths were all occupied and quite a crowd had collected on the outside of the building. Counting was begnn here early and at the above hour 150 had been counted and the inspectors were steadily as

In Precient Two Ward Three, 256 votes had been cast at 1.30 c'clock and at that hour there was quite a rush of voters at the polls. Counting was commenced at 9 o'clock and when dinner was announced 150 had been counted.

In Ward Four, Precinct One, 252 votes had been cast at 1 o'clock. Work of counting the split tickets was commenced at 10 o'clock and according to the election officers the split tickets are split with a vengeance. As one of them expressed it, f all votes were like the fifty counted at noon it would be a month before the result was known.

In Precinct Two, Ward Four, it was impossible to tell how many votes had been cast, for, as has been noted elsew'ere, the box is not working. Counting was commenced early this morning and at 1 o'clock 150 had been counted. The election officers say that these were not in very bad shape, not near as bad as was expected.

Chicago, Nov. 4.- The wild hurrah a jubilation of the Republican adherer that continued from an early hour l

The lateness the returns left many states in doubt last night's investigations, and t norning gradually the veil is be lifted. to The Tribune: "I do not concede Mc-Kinley's election, although the returns up to date point that way. If he is elected the fight against plutocracy and the gold standard will not be abandoned. The present agitation can no more be stopped than was that which resulted in the emancipation of slaves. The agricultural classes can never hope for prosperous times under the gold standard. Ben Tillman.'

Gold Democrat Chairman Hopkins has given out the following: We know now that McKinley has received an overwhelming majority in Illinois. This is no surprise to those who have had an opportunity to observe the trend of public opinion in this state. Democracy and the Democratic party still lives. Its principles are eternal. 1 do not rejoice at McKinley's victory, but I do rejoice in Bryan's defeat. Our committee will meet this week and proclaim to the people of this state and the United States that we are Democrats, and claim to represent the Pemocratic faith. We have no doubt but that the conservative element of the party will assert itself, and now that Altgeldism and all that it represents has been utterly repudiated by our state, the sober class of the people will assert itself and Democracy will be re-established on its ancient lines.

I rejoice as an American citizen that the capacity of the American people to govern themselves in peace as in war has been demonstrated in what has been the most crucial test to which the republic has ever been subjected.

Mr. Henry B. Payne of the Republican executive committee was highly elated over the result, and said: "The country is to be congratulated that the majority is so great that it will inspire confidence in business circles. Too much praise cannot, in my opinion, be given to these patriotic men, who have broken away ators and about 10 representatives. MAINE.

Portland, Me., Nov. 4 .- Maine's plurality for McKinley, according to estimates made on the basis of returns from cities and towns in all quarters of the immense plurality at the September election by from 1500 to 2000 votes. The returns indicate a Republican plurality in the state of 46,600, while the plurality in September was 48.377 for governor.

NEW HAMPSHIRE. Concord, N. H., Nov. 4.-One hundred and fifty towns and wards give McKinley 22.741; Bryan, 11.740; Palmer, 1867. Mc-Kinley's plurality, 21,001. The same places gave Harrison 29,965; Cleveland, 24,222. Republican gain, 18,258. One hundred and forty-four towns and wards give Ramsdell, for governor, 25,784; Kent, 15,221. Ramsdell's plurality, 10,563.

VERMONT.

Montpelier, Vt., Nov. 4.-Returns from the state are being completed very slowly. Those at hand indicate that the Republican majority will be about 60 per cent greater than that of 1892, but that it will fall away from the September plurality given the Republican candidate for governor. As near as can be calculated from the meagre returns at hand, the Republican plurality will be about 35,000. In the towns heard from, the Gold Democrats hold about 10 per cent of the total vote, and this loss to the Democratic party is about equal to that of the Republican party in the state.

RHODE ISLAND.

Providence, Nov. 4.-As soon as the returns from the Rhode Island towns began to come in, it was very evident that the state had given McKinley an overwhelming majority. Town after town, Full congressional reports have been irrespective of as political complexion received from the following States: Col-orado, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Republican candidates, and as early as Maine, Maryland, Mississippi, Missouri, 10 o'clock the Democrats themselves New Hampshire, New Jersey, Pennsylva-were ready to admit that the state had The Tribune (Rep.) has the following:

This ever given in Rhode Island. The gold vote in Rhode Island has cut a sorry figure. In some towns from six to 25 votes were cast for Palmer, while many made no report of this feature in sending their returns to Providence. So far as can be estimated, however, the total vote cast for the gold candidates will be very small, the Gold Democrats having united with the Republicans to poll a big vote for the gold standard candidates. In the two congressional districts the vote follows closely that cast for the national ticket. Melville Bull and Adin B. Capron, the cougressional candidates from the First and Second districts, are elected by pluralities that promise to surprise any on record.

CONNECTICUT. New Haven, Nov. 4 .- A careful revision of the returns of Tuesday's election show that the final result in Connecticut as given by the press during the early morning hours was correct. The total vote of Connecticut was 173,863, giving McKinley 110,279; Bryan, 56,840; Palmer, 4277; Levering, 1638; scattering, 829. By these figures it will be seen that McKinley has a plurality in Connecticut of 53,439, and a majority over all of 46,695. In the vote for governor, Lorrin A. Cook (Rep.) was given 103,571, and Joseph B. Sargent (Silver Dem.), 54,144. Cook's Continued on page 4.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY

1619 PLURALITY.

That's Quincy's Verdict for Honorable William McKinley.

Wolcott's Plurality in this City Over 1400.

The Braintree Observer, Barrows, Flint, Newcomb, Thompson, Cook Wadsworth Also Elected.

> "As goes the City of Presidents so goes the Presidential election," was verified once more yesterday. Quincy gave a sweeping majority for McKinley and the country appears to have done likewise. There was no doubt about this city from the start, and there should not have been in the country had we been consulted.

> Quincy which four years ago gave a plurality for Cleveland, has given 1619 plurality for McKinley, 1467 plurality for Wolcott, 828 plurality for Barrows. It has reelected Messrs. Newcomb and Thompson to the Legislature by largely increased majorities, and given large pluralities for all the Republican candidates. The vote was about 2 to 1 against the amendments.

The vote in full is given below, and will be revised carefully in the afternoon edition:

Civil Service in the City.

To the Editors of the Daily Ledger: 109 As the city caucuses are soon to be held, 23 a word in regard to the street department 12 will be opportune. It is claimed that in 433 event of a change of administration that foreman O'Neil, who has charge of the Ward Six streets, will be removed and a party in Norfolk Downs will be substituted. In regard to Mr. O'Neil it is evident that 2208 the streets in Ward Six have never been 639 so well attended to under any other foreman's attention as under the present one's. Mr. O'Neil is a man who is a worker, not 508 ashamed to put his own hands to a shovel and who does not feel the dignity of his position to the extent that he is above of which is to rebuild. During the snow storms of last winter 87 and the heavy rains of the summer, foreand the heavy rains of the summer, fore-man O'Neil has been on duty, whether Sunday, night or holiday, with his shovel, temporarily cleaning away the snow or

As Mr. O'Neil has so far proved himself so able and competent, as street fore-30 man, whoever may be honored with the Mayor's chair should retain such a practi-cal man. He has had experience and proved himself capable of taking charge, and a new man would be but an apprentice of to be taught the business at the expense of CIVIL SERVICE.

-Mr. George Crocker of San Francisco has just secured $500,000 bequeathed him by a wise father on condition of his keep-health. Every nook and corner of the system is reached by the blood, and or its quality the condition of every organ depends. Good blood means strong nerves, good digestion, robust health. Impure blood means scrofula, dyspepsia, rheumatism, catarrh or other diseases. The surest way to have good blood is to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. This medicine purifies, vitalizes, and enriches the blood, and sends PRUDENT, the elements of health and strength to every nerve, organ and tissue. It creates a good appetite, gives refreshing sleep

Chairman Jones Refuses to Give Up the Battle.

Next Congress Will Be For the Gold Standard In Both Branches.

New York, Nov. 5 .- The New York Herald today says: The returns from Tuesday's presidential election give ne ason for any change whatever in the ectoral table printed in The Herald sterday. This table gives McKinley owing states: California, Connecticut Delaware, Illimois, Indiana, Iowa, Ken tucky, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts Minnesota, New Hampshire, New Jersey New York, North Dakota, Ohio, Oregon ennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Da Away down in the southeastern part of Kentucky, near the Tennessee line, and among the foothills of the Appalachian range, is the little county of Leslie. It is very sparsely settled, far from a tele-graph office. On this county hangs the ssue of the great sound money battle in the Blue Grass state. The Republican state committee at midnight claimed Kentucky by 1750 plurality, with five counties, missing. Unofficial returns to the Louisville Courier-Journal from four of these give Mr. Bryan 550 plurality with Leslie county still to be heard from.

This county, in 1895, cast 789 Republi an votes for Bradley for governor an nly 70 Democratic votes for Hardin. If the vote was cast in the same proportion on Tuesday, McKinley has the state by 266 votes. It is believed, however, that the Republican vote was heavier in this county this year. Other returns from Kentucky say McKinley has the stat former by 3500 and the latter by 9000. So there is absolutely no ground for the claim that Bryan is elected. triotism in Woodward Institute.

The young women students in the Woodgress, Tuesday forenoon in the school building. Preliminary ward meetings were held Monday afternoon, and after registering their names, officers were nominated from the pupils for all but the principal can-

The election officers were Misses Eaton, Faxon, Reed, McKenzie and Shea. Misses placarded and numbered in big letters in various rooms. The school was divided into six wards, there being six classes. The principal, Miss Small, called the classes together in the hall, and gave orally with printed ballot prepared; a esson on politics and civics, explaining details and method of work to avoid misakes. Of nearly one hundred votes cast, t is noted that not one was rejected.

Before the serious work began, the eachers entered with improvised pasteboard trays, laden with old time election cake wrapped in vari-colored tissue paper napkins improvised by their nimble fingers, cut and fringed. These further ornamented the fair heads, the head milliner making no mistake, and yellow trimmings finding dark locks, white where white was needed, rose color and green combined, and one yellow and green paper butterfly surmounting a light head. Little flags Best total by Quincy man were added in some cases.

The work of voting occupied not much Best Individual string less than one hour, the first vote being cast by Miss Wrisley. The officers were ready Best with the divided work, receiving the voters, checking the name, and passing them to the separate booths, in military order.

It was difficult in the school to get a fair Democratic following, but the number when registered, increased to fifteen by actual vote. Meantime patriotic songs, war songs, and plantation melodies were being sung in the upper hall, under direction of Miss Rice, and freedom reigned generally in the The girls showed originality and a comprehension of the work, as scratching, and substituting names generally evinced. In some places combination and independent tickets were used. Just before closing the polls, a messenger ran frantically around to hunt and collect two little girls who were having so good a time that they forgot to vote. After the vote the principal read off the names, which the officers tabulated, then they were counted, and the returns announced amid enthusiasm. The McKinley & Hobart electors received 82 votes, and the Bryan & Sewall 15, and about the same strength was keeping a liquor nuisance at Quincy and

The plurality for Governor Wolcott was nearly as large, 1467, and Crane for Lientenant Governor had a plurality only 20 smaller. Because of a division of the vote between Democratic candidates Auditor Kimball had the largest plurality on the ticket, although not the largest vote.

The Representative candidates were both erected by pluralties of over 1000, the vote being over two to one for Newcomb and Thompson.

Congressman-elect Barrows also had a very large plurality for a triangular fight. It was 828 in Quincy, and he is elected in the district by 1813.

Mr. Cook is also to be congratulated upwhether he would be elected. He went out of Quincy with 864.

About 1300 plurality was given Mr. Wadsworth for county commissioner, and over 700 against each amendment.

Not only was the amendment defeated, but its opponents vigorously attacked its proposer, and ascribed to him unworthy motives. The proposer is a man than whom none stands higher in this community. No one ever heard him speak ill that the very fact that he meddled at all with this venomous affair shows how very intense was his interest in his club and has carried this state by at least 5000 and how great his anxiety to sever the entire Republican state ticket is elected tentacles of this monster who was slowly

Several young ladies were present to entertain the little ones, of whom there were 29 between the ages of five months and five years, which they did with great success in one of the class rooms at a soap bubble party. The mothers relieved of all care were entertained by prayer, singing, a reading by Mrs. T. H. Wason, duet by Misses Pettengill and Litchfield, and a talk by Miss Florence M. Scales, head kindergartener of the Elizabeth Peabody House, 156 Chamber street, Boston, telling mainly how to entertain children. Miss Etta Morse, a teacher in Miss Simond's Back Bay kindergarten, Boston, was also present.

MAINE.

Portland, Me., Nov. 5 .- Late returns from the Maine election give McKinley a plurality just a trifle short of that given the Republicans at the September election, or about 48,000. This statement g based on returns received from 284 towns, which give McKinley 66,152; Eryan, 26,057; Palmer, 1283; Levering. 915; Bryan and Watson, 1301. The same towns in September gave a Republican plurality of 40,176. The towns yet to be heard from cannot change these figures

VERMONT.

St. Albans, Vt., Nov. 5.-The Vermont ers do not yet know just the size of the vote in their state, or the plurality given to Major McKinley, and it looks as if nobody cared to canvass the vote. Among the elements of certainty in the vote is the diminutiveness of the Gold Dem ocratic, Pepulistic and Prohibitory polling strength. McKinley's plurality will be about 35,000, as already conservatively estimated. The Republican state committee is paying little attention to collecting the returns. RHODE ISLAND.

Providence, Nov. 5 .- The complete returns of the state give Bryan, 13,749; Mc-Kinley, 37,499; Levering, 1165; Palmer, 203, and Matchett, 65.

MIDDLE ATLANTIC

NEW YORK.

Albany, Nov. 5.—The curious part of the figures, as the complete results become known, is that for the first time in a presidential election the city of New York has gone for the Republican ticket and the defeat of the regular organized Democracy there, Tammany Hall, has been made equal to the defeat of two years ago, when Mayor Strong was elected. Frank S. Black runs behind about 25,000, but still his plurality is greater than that of any candidate for governor. In 1882, when Cleveland made his first run, six counties remained true to Republicanism. In 1894, when Hill was soundly beaten, he managed to get three counties, and his party captured seven counties last year. These facts show the significance of Tuesday's remarkable vote. The congressional delegation from this state remains as before, 29 Republicans and five Democrats. The assembly will stand, according to the present canvass: Republicans, 114; Independent Republican, 1; Democrats, 35. The present assembly stands, Republicans, 103; Democrats, 47. The new legislature will elect a United States senator, to succeed Senator Hill, and on a joint ballot, the result will be 85 more woman attractive by making her wholesome.

Whenever there is a clogged condition of the liver and bowels, Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the best things to use. They start the healthy, natural action of the digestive organs, and assist Nature in removing poisonous and effete matter. They may be absolutely depended upon to cure constipation, and so to cure biliousness, sick and bilious headaches, sour stomach, foul breath, heart-burn, palpitation of the heart. They are tiny, sugar-coated granules, It takes forty of them to fill a little vial.

Republican votes than Democrats. DELAWARE.

Wilmington, Del., Nov. 5 .- McKinley's estimated plurality in Delaware is 2600. Tunnell (Dem.), for governor, has 2800 plurality, and Handy (Dem.), for congress, about the same. The legislature this state, though unofficial, and subject is in doubt. Addicks carried Kent county, but both parties claim the Sussex legislative ticket. If Addicks has Sussex, he will control the legislature, and be elected to the United States senate. If he loses it, the Democrats will have the house. The Democrats carried the legislative ticket in Newcastle county. The complete vote for governor gives: McKinley carried all three counties Prince, 13,674; Williams, 101,099; Wolcott, The constitutional convention will be

All four Republican candidates for congress are undoubtedly elected by increased majorities. Atkinson (Rep.), for governor, and the entire Republican state ticket is elected, and both branches of the legislature are Republican. The Gold Democrats generally voted the Republican ticket.

Democrats at Last Acknowledge Defeat.

So Says Mr. Bryan of the American People.

President-Elec: McKinley Congratulates Chairman Hanna and His Associates.

Chicago, Nov. 6 .- Senator Jones, chairman of the Democratic national committee, has conceded Major McKinley's election. He left for Arkansas today. Last night he issued this statement from the national committee: .

"The result of the presidential election s apparently no longer in doubt. It has been one of the closest contests that the people have been called on to determine in recent years. We have claimed the election on our advices from states that were admittedly in doubt, in which we knew there had been many frauds, and from which there were evidences of tampering with the returns. It seems now to be apparent that, while Mr. Bryan, after making the most brilliant campaign in the history of our country, and having carried most of the states claimed to be doubtful, has not carried enough to assure his success in the electoral col- tegrity have crushed repudiation, seclege. Triumph For Sound Money and Obliteration of Sectional Lines.

Canton, O., Nov. 6 .- Major McKinley last night sent the following dispatch to Mark Hanna, at New York:

"Your telegraphic message announcing the result of the election has been received. I beg you to accept my hearty thanks for your great services in the cause of sound money and protection, throughout the campaign just closed, and gloriously won. They were most generous, effective and will receive the warm approbation of your countrymen everywhere. I will be pleased to have you convey to your associates of the national committee my hearty appreciation of their efficient services.

Delaware.

Wilmington, Del., Nov. 6.—McKinley's majority in Delaware will be from 3990 to 4000. Tunnell, for governor, 1800; Handy (free silver), for congress, 2400. The legislature is Democratic.

Ohio.

Columbus, O., Nov. 6.—Returns from every county in Ohio gives McKinley a plurality of 52,297. The official count will not materially change these figures.

Washington. • Seattle, Wash., Nov. 6.—Returns from the state are very incomplete, those coming in thus far showing the fusionists' majority to be about 11,000.

A Trip Around Town.

Canton, O., Nov. 6.—Major McKinley went about town yesterday for the first time since the election, and was warmly greeted by those who saw him. He took a walk, early in the day through the residential section, and about noon drove residential section, and about noon drove to his mother's home, with a liberal share of the flowers which had been sent to his house. Driving or walking, he was kept busy acknowledging saluta-2 to his house. Driving or walking, he tions from all sides. Major McKinley has determined to take a trip to Cleveland within a day or two. Mrs. McKinley will accompany him. They go for much needed rest 5 much needed rest.

much needed rest.

Major McKinley's touching an electric 6 key, by which the new Niagara furnace at North Tonawanda, N. Y., was put into operation, was an interesting event in the afternoon. The furnaces had been connected by wire with the McKinley house, so that a touch of the telegraphic key at this end sent an electric spark which lighted the fires of the furnace At exactly 2:30, the major pressed the 1 key. Word came back that the furnaces had started with a blaze, amid the en-125 thusiasm of 3000 spectators.

Ward Two.

In the Quincy point ward there are two lists of delegates, one of which is probably solid for Hammond and the other only partially so. The first list had these names:

John Shaw, John S. Gay, Edgar F. Hayden, Rollin H. Newcomb, Benjamir Johnson, Jr., Aubrey R. Keith, Walter B. Burrell, Frank E. Burrell, George Weston. William Caldwell and Alfred L. Mead.

Five of the above names appear in the second list: Eigar F. Hayden, Peter Moran, Benjamin Johnson, Jr., Edward A. Spear, Frank E. Burrell, Jno. Baxter, Thomas B. Pollard, William Caldwell, Maurice I. Gatcomb, Charles C. Mueller, and Rollin H. Newcomb.

But one set of Councilmen from ward was filed and would indicate a walkover for Geo. A. Sidelinger, Eugene N. Hultman and Benjamin Johnson, Jr.

The present ward committee is renominated and has no rivals, namely: John R. Graham, John S. Gay, Edgar F. Hayden, George A. Sidelinger, Edwin W. Newcomb, Thaddeus H. Newcomb and Rollin H. Newcomb.

The following lists were filed in the South Quincy ward:

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning Nov. 8. Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle. Topic.-The most interesting thing I know bout foreign missions.—Acts xvii, 16-31.

The topical reference presents to us -Paul standing in the cultured city of Athens, in the areopagus on Mars hill, preaching "Jesus and the resurrection' to the philosophers of Greece. It should inspire us to select many interesting things concerning this important work of Christ's church.

When Christ came, the whole world was open to Christ. Rome was the one great power of the world, and under the protection of Rome the missionaries of the cross could go practically throughout the whole world. Later on many large sections of the earth were closed to the gospel, but today again the doors of heathendom stand wide open, and the missionary may enter. In two years (1858-60) 875,000,000 souls were opened to the gospel, 40,000,000 in Japan by treaty with Great Britain, 390,000,000 in China by Tien-tsin treaty, 260,000, 000 in India by transfer of the government to the crown, 150,000,000 in Africa by Livingstone's explorations, 25,-000,000 in Italy and 10,000,000 in Mexwealthy Virginia planter and heiress to ico. The doors of the world are wide $2,000,000, she has figured not a little open. Will we go in and possess the

This is but a picture of heathenthat half her fortune should be settled ture, to gods of its own handiwork, or among them is simply appalling.

2. What the heathen need. Paul saw In view of the attention which Uncle the great need of the Grecian idolaters, and "he preached into them Jesus and the resurrection." A resurrected Christ is what heathendom needs today. It is dead in trespass and in sin. It is blinded by ignorance and superstition. It needs a living Christ to give life instead of death, and to open the eyes of the blind. 3. How this need can be supplied. By the preaching of men. Prayer and pains, men and money are the agencies by which this living Christ may be sent to heathendom. Heathendom needs the best men. Paul was the best preacher of his day. God sent him to the foreign field. God needs His best men today in the foreign field.

Over Five Thousand People

Thinking people, crowded our store at our grand opening on Saturday evening last, to place their seal of satisfaction and approval on our untiring efforts.

Never has such a public demonstration been known before. Good natured, keen, progressive, money-saving house-keepers from Quincy and her suburbs jostled each other in the tremendous crowd, and voted it the handsomest, best equipped and lowest priced store they had ever been in.

Every one delighted. Every one surprised at the magnitude of this beautiful and palatial new store. All are welcome without obligation to buy. There are hundreds and hundreds of genuine bargains for your inspection. See the 4 and 8 cent counters.

One result is a return of confidence in the stability of values and in an early revival of demand for staples. Lower rates of interest and a willingness on had previously been declined, are additional evidences of the meaning of the maintenance of the gold standard. Business was practically suspended throughout the country early this week, and there has been little increase in the volume of trade since the election, compared with like periods in preceding weeks. But manufacturers and jobbers are more inclined to purchase in advance, instead of for nearby wants only, and in a few lines, notably wool, cotton, iron and steel, a large volume of purchases is reported. That merchants generally share the confidence in an early revival is indicated by the hardening of staple prices and the increase in quotations in addition to those given in preback into the banks much faster than it was drawn out, and advices from various financial centers are that wages and small checks are being paid freely trustees, and council for Dr. Giddings, had been forbidden by President Men-

The old house in which James G. ldermen yesterday, a new Pa., is being torn down, and in a short including the very room in which he first saw the light, and now that it is all too late many are found who shake their heads sadly and say that it is a pity such a building, so closely connected with the youth of one of our greatest statesmen, should be destroyed.

Early in the present century the tract of land on which the village stands was bought by Ephraim Blaine, James' grandfather. The price he paid for it was one negro and several tons of iron. In 1831 Ephraim L. Blaine, father of James G., laid out the town. The house had been built some years before this. It was a substantial structure, built of solid stone. IN CONNECTION with the question of the location of the proposed new fire station one fact should not be overlooked by the Council and that is the growth of what might be properly called the business section of the city on and about City Square. within the last few years several large business blocks have been erected, notably The only record beaten was made by the Adams, Savings Bank, Kincaide, Inman of the Boylstons, who rolled a string Quincy & Boston Street Railway and Dur- of 223, which is six better than Bargdall of gin & Merrill buildings. it ever held a larger party than that of up in the final but the Quincys went 28 can get settled. The apartment that I to testify that Officer Michael J. Canavan match. is held in high esteem by the citizens of The score: Quincy, this large gathering was sufficient. Officer Canavan was appointed a memdepartment was established and was ber of the permanent police when that assigned to night duty at West Quincy. He faithfully performed the duty assigned and would have contined to do so had he not become incapaciated by illness. The last duty he did was at the Hospital festival in September, although he was in ill health at that time.

Since that time he has been confined to his home and the nature of his disease is such that it is doubtful if he will ever be able to resume duty. His fellow officers, understanding these facts, planned the benefit which was held last evening.

The dancers began to arrive early and at 9 o'clock when the ball was in full motion there were so many present that dancing with comfort was out of the question, but then the object was a worthy one and though a larger hall would have been welcomed the dancers made the best of the situation and proceeded to enjoy themselves.

Hanson's orchestra furnished the music and the twenty-three numbers on the order of dances occupied all the time until 2 pect of Quincy's securing a touchdown o'clock this morning. Every number on the order was dedicated to some person or object, two of the most suggestive were: "How about that Patrol Wagon?" and "Enlarge the force."

There was something like a hundred couples in the grand march, which was led by the officers of the permanent force who were in full uniform, the brass buttons on their coats shining like gold dollars. Chief Williams and Postmaster Burke were near the head of the line. With these guardians of peace in charge of course perfect order was maintained and a thorough good time was enjoyed.

The management was as follows: Floor Director, Officer Thomas F. Ferguson; Aids, Officers Daniel R. McKay, Carl G. Nicol, Patrick J. Bradley, John Holleran, John Connoly, Frank Davoren, John Mc-Aloon, John Vogel, James McDonnell, Patrick Mannex, George Berry and Patrick Cray.

The exact amount that will be netted from the benefit it is impossible to determine just at present but the amount will not be far from $450, which will be turned over to Officer Canavan, and the committee only regret that the amount could not have been larger.

-I. B. Allen, who is elected a member of Gov. Wolcott's council, is the first colored man in any Northern State to be so honored. He was born a slave 52 years ago in Hampton, Va. In his early life he to use patrols for purposes of intimidareal estate business.

Insist upon having vailed in the theatrical profession up to a few years ago and the present arrangement has received fresh impetus from an interview with Eugene W. Presbrey which was recently published in The Dramatic Mirror. When asked whether or not he was in favor of the stock plan, Mr. Presbrey is credited with the fol-time when I did, but I was young. No, sir, the stock system is dead-and dead forever. The demand of the time is for the perfect pictorial realization of a work of stage fiction; hence the necessity for one part actors. In every personal and physical way an actor must be the thing be represents. Today there lines to speak as there used to be over fitting an actor with a star part. Take Quincy Electric Light Co,'s Lamps this play of 'Trilby,' for instance. No stock company on earth could do justice to it. The leading juvenile would say: 'What's the leading juvenile part-Little Billee? Oh, very well, then, I shall play Little Billee.' 'But you don't look the part,' the stage manager might remonstrate. 'You're 6 feet, and the illustrations make him a foot shorter. And you're stout, old man, and Little Billee was only a stripling.' Remonstrance is vain. My contract says I shall play all leading juveniles, and I intend to play Little Billee.' Now, how, may I ask, could you cast a play satisfactorily under the regime of the stock? Once in a while, of course, chance at Pierce's store, East Milton. brought a play to a stock company that precisely suited the personalities of its whole can only be attained by the deft fitting together of the right individualities.

Still, the disproof of what he says is so easy that it will strike any thoughtful person as strange that he ever allowed himself to be deluded into the utterance of such remarks. If the stock company is not a good thing, it ought to be easy to point to a dozen or more actors of the very first rank on the American stage who are not either wholly or in part graduates from that institution, to which measurably we are practically certain to return within the next decade. GOOD FORM.

[Special Correspondence.]

The Delicacy and Tact of Making One "Feel at Home."

NEW YORK, Oct. .- "Make yourself at home." Who among us is there that has not received this injunction from his friends and acquaintances, an injunction prompted by the kindliest and most hospitable of sentiments, and yet there is no phrase in our language that Nominations in the Wollaston ward will is to me so suggestive of discomforts of a moral and physical character that I never hear it uttered without a cold shiver going down my back. So very O. Moxon and Charles L. Hammond for tact and intuition requisite to make Indeed one of the most objectionable and frequent manifestations of bad form is to be found in the manner of enter> taining visitors. What can be more distressing, for instance, than the host who is so solicitous of our enjoyment that he cannot bear to see us doing nothing? He seems to have an idea that it is a reflection upon his hospitality, and that it is his duty to provide us with occupation for every waiting hour out of the 24. To such a pitch I have known men carry this that even when they would see me reclining in an easy chair, glancing over the day's paper and resting from some labor which their forethought or ingenuity had imposed upon me, they would burst in with the unwelcome query, "Well, what would you like to

Hosts who describe their houses as liberty hall are, moreover, very apt to assure you when inviting you that they never dress for dinner and that it is altogether unnecessary to bring your dress clothes. Woe betide you, however, if believe he was the same person. Flossie you take such a man as this at his word and leave your evening dress at home, for you will certainly find on your arrival that your host is in evening dress entertaining his friends on a scale of peculiar magnificence.

I have been caught several times this way and have consequently made it a fixed rule never to believe a man who tells me "not to dress for dinner," even when he declares on oath that he never does it himself. I likewise endeavor, as I mentioned above, to avoid the host who tries to find me occupation, and I make a point of invariably refusing all invitations to liberty hall. No man really can feel so comfortable in another person's house as in his own, and it requires considerable more than the ordinary modicum of tact to be able to strike the happy medium between neglecting one's guests on the one hand or over-

New Draperies, Screens and Other Furnishings-Abuse of Five o'Clock Tea-Old Shoes as Doormats.

The absolutely new draperies this season—those hangings which are really the extreme novelty-are the "fish net curtains," which come for $5 a pair. They are in tones of a deep red, a medium blue, oriental colors and quiet grays. They can be fastened to any pole and then looped in any and every way. They are very wide and serve as door. Although rather good in tints, yet The Decorator and Furnisher, from which these notes are gleaned, pronounces them a newfangled notion that one would quickly tire of. They are would lose their hue after a little serv-

Screens this season are made to match walls and hangings. They are of good height, without any ornamentation, the material being alone sufficient for beauty. They are used exclusively for doors, washstands which need hiding or to exclude air from a bed near a window. Some are finished with a decorative brass nail, some with a narrow band of leather, some with a narrow gimp. They have pockets on the inner side and are good receptacles for embroidery, papers and the like.

Filling will be as much used for apartments as ever. Green for best rooms still holds its own as a leading color. It furnishes well, gives a tone to a room and is durable for wear. Over this filling rugs will be more popular than ever. With this scheme furniture in simple hues is taking precedence. A new chair called the "fisherman" is With them they made her bed—the old sweet "Oh, I'v made of simple pine, painted in color devices. But mahogany is now consid- And vesterday all day the longing sky ered the best of all woods for dainty and artistic furniture.

Brass beds have now become universally the fashion for small rooms. Those of English make are considered extra fine, of designs more artistic, better in finish, although higher in price than those of American. For the dressing of these affairs swiss in large dots with lace edge looks extremely attractive. Pillows are no longer used, the round bolster taking its place, in which a wide bow of ribbon forms the center decoration.

To make a breakfast table attractive But we an easier way to cheat our pains have two colors can be used, blue and yellow. The Canton china, which is really never out of fashion, looks extremely decorative, with cups and saucers in delicate yellow and with a tray cloth in simple artistic scheme is very acceptable.

Abuse of Five o'Clock Tea. The announcement now made in some circles that 5 o'clock tea tables are going out furnishes another text for a homily on the thoughtless ways in which we take to things nowadays. When the hospitable English custom of offering the friend who dropped in for an afternoon call a cup of tea and a wafer was introduced over here, it rang at once into wide favor. But its limitations were not recognized. Chocolate or bouillon was added to the tea, the wafer became one of several accompaniments to a salad, then to various hot or cold dishes of varying heartiness. The function became in some houses almost a banquet, detaining one from completing a list of visits and ruining one's appetite for the swiftly following dinner. This was in elaborate establishments, but in more modest ones nearly as bad happened. The tea table became a hollow mockery, a permanent but unneeded bit of parlor bric-a-brac. It was never used, but always set out, though the kettle tarnished and dust gathered on teacups and spoons. A relief from either of these extremes, says the New York Times, is the Turkish folding table, with its portable tray. Now the correct tea table in fashionable houses is the tray freshly filled and brought in at the moment of its need, to be removed as promptly when that need is over. But the little tea table in a quiet nook, that the chatelaine may and does employ constantly in its graceful and hospitable service, is still a distinct addition to the cozy and welcoming room.

Old Shoes For Doormats.

A use has been found for old shoes, a derelict product that has heretofore defied the efforts of that class of claimants who view with despair the absolute loss of anything. The New York Journal tells that the leather is cut into little disks of various shapes. These are set on edge and held together with long wire staples, and the result is an odd looking but flexible and serviceable doormat, which seems to do the work excellently of the wire and steel mats that are in such general use in outer halls. The leather scrap mat is very cheap and will last a long time.

Numbered with clocks given to please are some in opalescent onyx cases.

Ladies' watches are, if possible, smaller than heretofore and are noticeable for their elaborately decorated cases. Enameled watches enriched with gems are most in favor.

SHE ANTICIPATED.

Running up the station stairs had made the girl short of breath for the moment and brought a flush of color to her cheeks, which became her well. She was pretty-very pretty-with eyes much brighter than the mock diamonds

"Oh, Mrs. Murray," she panted eagerly, fairly aglow with her excitement, 'I'm going to be married!" She doubtless meant to speak in a confidential tone, but unconsciously raised her voice so that at least three or four of the passengers waked up to a lively interest in her further revelations.

"Laws! You don't say so, Jennie! Why, I'm awful glad to hear it, if you like him and are sure he'll be a good

"Oh, I've no fears about that."

"And does he love you real well, Jennie?"

"I wouldn't marry the best man alive if he didn't," replied the young woman, with an independent toss of her

"Well, if he does and you feel the same toward him and nothing happens, I suppose you'll be as happy as folks mostly are, which I hope and pray you may, Jennie," commented Mrs. Murray in the dubious tone befitting so carefully qualified an utterance. "What's his business?

"He's a dry goods merchant." "How much a week?"

"Nothing a week. He owns the store." "Well, I declare! He'll be able to dress you in fine style at first cost, won't he? George was in paints and oils when I married him, and paints and oils he's in yet, and I suppose always will be. It ain't bad, but many's the time I've wished it was jewelry or dry goods. A husband can't naturally refuse his wife nice things out of his own store like as he may when he has to buy them ing to be married?" "Well, the day isn't exactly fixed yet, but it will be some time next spring, I guess," Jennie replied, with a little hesitancy, easily attributable to maiden modesty. Then, with a rapturous burst of confidence, "And as soon as we are married he will take me traveling abroad, and when we come back we are going to live in a brownstone front up town with lots of fine furniture and servants, and he will keep and a carriage for me, and we will have two children."

The older woman emitted an explosive snort of impatience. "That's as may be," she exclaimed, with an air of superior wisdom. "What you say or mean don't make a bit of difference about that. I wasn't going to have but two, and one was to be a boy, and we would call him George, after his father, and the other should be a girl, named Maria. after me, and now look at me with my

"Well, that's so. It may not all turn out just as you expect in every little thing, but that's the present intention at least.

"What kind of a looking man is he?" "Oh, he's ever so nice. Tall, you know, and the finest figure you ever saw. And he has black hair, a little curly, and the cutest little black mustache and black eyes-big, expressive eyes. I'm so light, you know, I ought to have a dark "Have you his picture with you,

dear?"

"N-no, I haven't his picture yet." "That's mostly the first thing a young man gives to his girl, because they are so vain they think their good looks will just charm her. But what sort of presents does he make you, Jennie? You can tell a good deal about a man's disposition by the sort of presents he makes when he's courting-allowing of course for his being more excited and liberal then than he is likely to be afterward." "Oh, he hasn't given me anything yet," answered Jennie reluctantly.

"But of course I"-"Humph! Some girls are notionate about presents even when engaged, but don't be a fool that way, Jennie. Take all you can get. Anything that's worth giving is worth having. And if anything should happen it isn't once in a thousand times that a man will sue to get his things back. You haven't told me his name. Ain't you going to, Jennie?"

"I-I-can't exactly do that, Mrs. Murray. You see I don't really know him yet." "You don't know him!"

"No. It was only this afternoon the fortune teller told me about him."

For a full minute the older woman stared at her with speechless amazement, which rapidly gave place to indignation as she seemed to feel that her sympathetic interest had been evoked by false pretenses. She grew red, even unto the gills, and in a tone that would have curdled milk explosively exclaimed:

Queer, Busy, Plucky Little Holland-The Fate of Peach Stones-Odd Postoffices on the Seas.

How would you like to have a farm as level as a barn floor and ditches for fences? They have such in Holland. When you mend your fences, you clean out your ditches, and if you wish to raise grain you dig your ditches deeper and keep your windmills going. There is no need of the rain or the dew from heaven. A foot or two below the surface water is as inexhaustible as the sea. The sea is the Lord's, for he made it, and his hands formed the dry land. All honor to the Dutchmen, then, for they make dry land too. A writer in The Examiner says:

I saw them making it by running the mud and water brought up by dredging over spaces inclosed by dikes and draining off the water at one corner. Other inclosures had been filled, and the mud was drying. About one-third of Holland is made land, and it is the best in the world. Such crops of wheat and rye as the farmers-men, women and children -are now gathering I never saw before. The methods are primitive, the old fashioned sickle and cradle being still used. The frequency of the ditches and the lodging of the grain hardly allow other methods.

How would you like to have a ditch for a dooryard fence and a swinging bridge for a front gate? They have them in Rotterdam. When your friends call, you go out and swing the bridge and let them in. And would you like to see people wearing wooden shoes and going to and from the markets with dogcarts? You can see them in Rotterdam. The Wednesday night. Postoffices on the Seas.

On the south ceast of Patagonia, on the strait of Magellan, it is told, there is a postoffice without either postman or clerk. Near the shore is a large signpost with "Postoffice" written upon it, while attached by strong chains to its foot is a very strong chest, which is the postoffice. And when he once gets out he makes More trouble in an hour Than you can stop in many a day Working with all your power.

He sets your playmates by the ears, He says what isn't so And uses many ugly words Not good for you to know.

Quick, fasten tight the ivory gates And chain him while he's young, For this same dangerous prisoner for this same dangerous.

PEOPLE OF THE DAY.

The national convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance union again brings into prominence the distinguished founder and president of that world encircling organization. While every one has become familiar with the later work of that association, which has established branches in every land, some may have forgotten the long, weary struggle which Miss Willard endured before her efforts met with such success. Abandoning a pedagogic career, in which she had achieved unusual distinction, she went to Chicago in 1874 to become the president of the Chicago Woman's Christian Temperance union, a little band of earnest women who had begun a work of philanthropy and reform greater than they dreamed. For many months Miss Willard worked without compensation, suffering many hardships and privations, and it was years before the association grew into a national organization. She still remained president and saw it spread around the world. For over 25 years she has been connected

PUT POISON IN TEA.

Some Murderous Person Had a Grudge Against Albert Learoyd.

One of His Former Employes Is Under Arrest

A Case Which Nearly Resulted in the Death of telry. Four Persons

Danvers, Masss., Nov. 9.-Some evilof this town, and four persons, who partcok of the tea, barely escaped death. The act is supposed to have been committed by a ...red man, who was discharged from Mr. Learoyd's employment for some unexplained reason. The names of the poisoned are: Albert F. Learoyd, Hardy Hall, Robert Hall and Jennie Jones. Mrs. Learoyd and a farmhand, named Conover, escaped any ill effects, as they did not drink any of the ways, which will be useful and instructea. Reward of Perseverance.

Mr. Edward E. Bullock, our well-known vocalist, has accepted the position of first tenor of the Temple quartette. Among a host of applicants he has received first choice as possessing the purest and most brilliant voice. For years his many friends have hoped great things for him, and now that his patient endeavor and close study is to bring its reward we sincerely congratulate him. He has filled the position lane, Penn, Water, Franklin, High, Bennow for some months, long enough to demonstrate his first-class ability, and also to earn the unqualified praise of the claims. management. The total vote in the state will approximate 425,000, an increase of 70,000 over last year's vote, and 25,000 more than the highest estimate before the election. The Republican vote increased about 40,000 over Governor Bradley's vote a year ago, which was 17,000 higher than ever before cast in a presidential election, and the Democratic vote was 29,000 higher. These figures will give some idea of the intensity of the political struggle through which Kentucky just passed. crats on Carlisle, Breckenridge or any other Democrat, to succeed Senator

New Charges Against Ex-President of Globe Investment Company.

Held For Seven Alleged Cases of Embezzlement.

Business of the Concern Was Conducted In a Very Queer Manner.

Boston, Nov. 10.-Allison Z. Mason, former president of the Globe Investment company, was arrested yesterday on the charge of embezzlment. The charge is similar to one against Treasurer Moore, who was recently convicted. President Mason, who has been arrested once before, since the Globe Investment company failure, is taken into custody this time on an indictment warrant covering seven cases of alleged embezzlement. The total amount said to have been misappropriated is about $10,000.

When Mason was arrested last spring the indictment warrant contained three counts, about $500 being involved. By mutual agreement, that case, as well as the case of ex-Treasurer Moore, who is now serving a sentence in the Charlessupreme court on agreed facts, a decision against Moore and Mason being given. Since the first arrest additional cases of dictment was drawn. The seven alleged cases of embezzlement are as follows: Lucia M. Peabody of Roxbury; March of $5000 bonds. 27, 1893, $1733.85 from Mary Langmaid of Somerville, who died recently; March 29, 1893, $724.50 from the Canadian and American Mortgage & Trust company of Scotland; April 3, 1893, $1656 from A. B. Earle of New York; April 3, 1893, $362.25 from Dennis Donaghue of Georgetown, Mass.; May 3, 1893, $2174.65 from Alexander Loudon of Scotland. The Globe Investment company was

> The opponents of Charles L. Hammond for Mayor, who are now known as the 'Antis," are all stirred up over the arrangement of names on the ballots to be used in the Ward One Republican caucus. They thought it would be a good idea to have a few sample ballots printed and to do this it was necessary to obtain the arrangement of the official ballot. This was easily secured as the Ward One committee had issued samples. The delegates "favorable to the nomin ation of Charles L. Hammond for Mayor" appear first on the ticket, and the delegates "opposed to the nomination of Charles L. Hammond" next, with fifteen blank spaces. To this there could be no objection, as it was understood that the first list filed should appear first, and the Hammond list was in promptly. The trouble began when Henry H. Faxon noticed the arrangement for Ward Councilman and Ward Committee. It happened that the rival lists for each had duplicates. On the first list for Councilmen appeared the names of John W. job in Ward Two removing the dirt and Nash, Frank F. Prescott and Luther S. suing year: Anderson, and Secretary Cleaves of the City Committee grouped these together first. As Mr. Anderson's name already appeared it was dropped from the second list as has been customary at other caucuses, but to this Mr. Faxon objects, and says it is a dirty trick. He tried to ing.

Canadians Taken In.

Windsor, Ont., Nov. 10.-Two months ago an aristocratic-looking man, about 40 years old, came to this city, and announced himself as James E. Faulkner of Bridgeport, Conn. He circulated the story that his wife had fallen heiress to a fortune, and that he wished to buy a handsome residence. He opened negotiations for the purchase of an unoccupied house for $6000, which was to be paid when his wife got her money. On the strength of this, he managed to fill the house with goods of all descriptions, for some of which he gave his note.

Some of the paper fell due yesterday,

The man who keeps up nowadays must be strong enough to stand long, forced marches. This is a busy world we live in, busier than it ever was before, in any other age, and this is the busiest country in the world. The country is full of ambitious, energetic, strong, brainy men, each of whom is trying to lead his own particular pro-cession. If his body fails, or his brain fails the man must fall out of the ranks -must lose his posi tion—must, perhaps, make the rest of the

THANKS COLD DEMOCRATS But Senator Hoar Thinks That Republicans Should Not Be Forgotten.

Worcester, Mass., Nov. 11.-The Young Men's Republican club of Worcester celebrated the election of McKinley and Hobart last evening, by a banquet. Charles T. Tatman presided, and, with him at the head of the table, were seated a number of other Republican leaders. In the course of a speech, Senator Hoar said the result of the election furnished an occasion for thanksgiving to Almighty God. This country is now about to start on a new career of prosperity and glory. The music of the factory, the voice of the well-paid workman, and the confidence of the business man will furnish subjects for congratulation. But, after all, the chief cause for congratulation is found in the fact that this nation has been saved from an act of dishonor. It were far better if every factory in Massachusetts were closed, and every workman sent back to get his living, as did our fore-

Mr. Vincent's Lecture.

The first of the course of lectures under Large Inventory of Estate of James the auspices of the Adams and John Hancock schools was delivered Tuesday evening in Faxon Hall. Mr. Leon H. appreciated by all who heard him, is the chosen speaker for the second course. Mr. Of Cylenda H. Canterbury, late of Wey- Vincent possesses the rare quality of mouth, Nathan D. Canterburg executor, making this class of lectures interesting, entertaining and instructive.

The lecturer spoke for one hour on the life and works of William Makepeace Thackeray. Much of the discourse was devoted to the characteristics of the man Of Hetty Donahue, late of Weymouth, Thackeray. The vein of humor which was so carefully interwoven could not fail to captivate, and the audience was most appreciative. The comparison of "England's Greatest Satirist," with his contemporary, Charles Dickens, had a tendency to make one even more appreciative of the works of the former. The subject of the next lecture is Carlyle and His Wife" and will be given in the same hall on November 24th.

King Oscar Will Be Final Arbitrator of the Venezuelan Controversy.

Essential Features of the Treaty Are Concluded.

Question of British-American General Arbitration Left to Future Negotiations.

Washington, Nov. 11.-The King of chosen, by the treaty between the United States and Great Britain, as the final taken prizes in the Royal Academy of arbitrator of the Venezuelan boundary question. The other arbitrators, four in number, are to be designated, two by the lord chief justice of England, and This is the final and the most important feature of the treaty for the complete adjustment of the long-pending Venezuelan controversy. The treaty was concluded in Washington Monday night, at the British embassy, Sir Julian Pauncefote representing her Britannic majesty, and Secretary Olney, the United States. Since the return of Sir Julian from London, three weeks ago, negotiations toward a final settlement have been proceeding. Most of the meetings were of such an important character that they were held either at Mr. Olney's residence that the concluding meeting was at the hall, London, later in the evening. It flats, occupied by the self-confesses is an annual event, at which the premier usually takes occasion to review the status of the most important international questions. For this reason, it was desired, if possible, to acquaint Lord was ever made by the shoplifters to dis Salisbury of the final and satisfactory adjustment of the Venezuelan question, in order that he might make such announcement as he thought fit concerning it. When Mr. Olney and Sir Julian prices to retail merchants. reached their final conclusions, a cablegram was at once dispatched to Lord Salisbury, notifying him of the result. It reached him within one hour of the time when he went on the platform at Guildhall, and it was the basis for his announcement to England and to the the Dingley bill can pass, and thinks that entire world that the Venezuelan con-

It was a general announcement, withand without any reference to years and five months. Thus Washington and London participated in this eventful scene by which the two leading English-speaking nations reach an amicable means of adjusting the most troublesome international question of recent years. Although Lord Salisbury's statement was without detail, it is possible to give all of the essential features of the treaty concluded in Washington. The main point, as already stated, is that King Oscar II, whose full title is "King of Sweden and Norway, the Goths and Vandals." is the fifth, or decisive arbitrator. It was deemed best to make this choice, rather than to leave it to the selection of the other four arbit etors. The latter are assured of being men of eminent judicial attainment, as their choice is left entirely to the judiciary of the respective coun-

The other essential feature of the treaty is that 50 years actual possession is to constitute title. With this limitation as to the settled districts, the entire sweep of Venezuela boundary is placed in the hands of the court of arbitration. Dr. Conwell spoke on "Reaping," while Dr. Conrad's theme was "My Coun try and I." The temple was filled with members of the union and spectators, all of whom listened to the speakers with marked interest.

Dr. MacArthur began his address by referring to the victory of Nov. 3, when "Morality, patriotism and intelligence overcame the foes of sectionalism, dishonor and anarchy," and expressing the belief that the United States would see, during the next four years, the best government in a generation.

Continuing, the speaker summarized the questions settled by the recent elec tion as follows: "It was determined that this nation shall keep its plighted obligations with the whole world; that sectionalism, as opposed to nationalism, has no high school in the afternoon, and in the place in this land, and that the spirit Eliot church in the evening. of anarchism, as opposed to Americanism, has no place under the American flag." THE COMMUNICATION of "A S. Y. C. Tuff" of Tuesday required considerable pruning before publication, as the DAILY LEDGER does not intend to be the instrument for unwarranted attacks upon our citizens or our institutions. Nearly it would have been, had it not been in reply to charges. The LEDGER regrets, particularly, that the two closing sentences of the second paragraph should have appeared, as it believes they had no foundation in fact. "Lea" does not seek to hide his

Reports of Encounter Comes Through Rebel Sources.

Has a Most Important Bearing on the Future of Cuba, If True.

Key West, Nov. 13.-Captain General Wevler has at last met the Cubans on the field and has suffered a repulse, accord ing to the advices per steamer Olivette from Habana. Weyler, it is said, was attacked while encamped in the Gober-Cubans killed 34 Spaniards and wounded on the eve of Nov. 6. Both state tha Oct. 17 by a large rebel force, commande ommanded by Major Martinez. Cap tain Jose Rosario tried to commit sui cide because his troops did not answer the rebel fire. The garrison comprise also Lieutenants Arias and Garcia, with 150 soldiers, and armed citizens. "All male residents of the town were forced by the rebels to assist them in the destruction of the houses and other buildings. Dynamite was used to de stroy the tower of a church which had escaped the rebel shell. "It is estimated that the enemy los about 40, killed and wounded.

"After the attack on the town, it is reported that Garcia took the direction of Cascorro, and that General Castellos with a strong column of infantry, cavalry and artillery, started in pursuit."

Weyler adds the third to the list of significant events of the Cuban revolu tion. The retirement of Campos and the installation of Weyler was looked upon as a most decisive move on the part of Spain. The reputation of the latter as a man without heart or pity was indicated by the title of "Butcher," which was bestowed upon him by the people The arrival of Weyler in Habana, how ever, was the commencement of a plan of warfare from a palace rather than the field. Commands by letter and battles by maps were the order of the campaign until after months of impotent attacks and ineffectual defense, Weyler at last went to the front and assumed actual command. The first battle in Pinar de Rio, with its accompanying defeat, has therefore, a most important bearing or the prospective settlement of Cubar troubles, and the possible victory of the insurgent party.

Deficit of Millions

Brisbane, Nov. 13.-The government committee of inquiry into the state of affairs of the Queensland National bank 8 reported a deficit of £2,436,000, of which £1,183,000 are regarded as being lost beyond recovery. The committee, however reported that the bank has a sound and profitable business, and it was claimed that, with economy and a reduction of the rate of interest paid to depositors, the management ought to be able to extinguish the remainder of the deficit, amounting to a little more than £1,250. 00, within 14 years. Liquidation, it was asserted, would be disastrous to the creditors in particular and the colony of Queensland in general. Violin Case Serves as a Coffin For a Lost Arm.

Devotion of Captains' Wives and Hospitality of Esquimaux Touched Upon.

Provincetown, Mass., Nov. 13.-Fred West, third officer of the steam whaler Navarch of New Berford, has arrived home, after his Arctic voyage, but his good right arm, enclosed in a violin case, lies buried in Herschel island in the far north. The Navarch left New Bedford Y. M. C. A., who hold that they demoralin July, 1891, and the cruise continued | ize the youth of the city. till Nov. 3. Mr. West tells the story of his mishap as follows:

"My partner and myself went 30 miles from the ship, to procure a supply of fish and game for the ship's company. Arriving at our destination, we found two other ship's men out on a hunting expedition, and joined forces. While arranging for fixing camp, I stepped irto the boat, which contained a part of our tores and fixtures, and accidentally discharged a gun which had become entangled in a cord attached to a bundle which I attempted to move. The charge entered my arm above the elbow. The accident occurred at 12:30 a. m., July 19. and the sun was above the horizon, shin-

Montpelier, Vt., Nov. 13.-Dr. Giddings was placed on the witness stand in his own defense at vesterday's session of the investigation into the Waterbury nsane asylum management. He denied everything that had been charged, and change his testimony. Dr. L. K. Graves, tota. loss. assistant physician of the asylum, until discharged, for alleged neglect of duty, was the other witness. At first he would say nothing against Dr. Giddings, but on being cross-examined, produced a copy of a letter, which he wrote to the asylum trustees, complaining of Dr. Giddings' management, and the niggardly economy which, he declared, disgraced the institution.

A Rare Sight.

Hartford, Nov. 13.-Thirty-three men. each over 77 years of age, sat down to dinner at the United States hotel yesterday. They were the members of the Harrison Veteran association, and had voted for General William Henry Harrison in 1840, and for his grandson, Benjamin Harrison, in 1888 and 1892. This year every one of them cast his vote for Mc-Kinley and Hobart. The dinner yesterday was given to celebrate the election of McKinley and Hobart. The elderly men, who were seated at the long table in the large dining room, presented an mpressive sight.

THE FACTORY CHIMNEYS.

Where, bending far, the azure dips To kiss the waking world below, Across the day, in dark eclipse, The somber factory chimneys show, Like gloomy wardens of the land, With sooty banners wide unfurled, Above the clustered town they stand And frown defiance on the world.

Yet they are beautiful to me.

Those smoky chimneys gaunt and high,
For in their volleyed clouds I see A bow of promise span the sky. Oh, children at the cottage door, Play on, for there is naught to dread! The smoke clouds from the chimneys pour, And all the land is full of bread!

Those somber standards, floating far, Give token of the reign of peace, More potent than the arms of war Their whirring looms that never cease. Beneath that dusky cloud is wrought

The fabric of a people's fate.
The victories of love and thought Transcending all the spoils of hate. There comes the sound of mingled bells; I see the sturdy toilers throng.

In happy homes, where plenty dwells,
I hear the housewife's cheery song.

Amid the factory's busy hum

Are mingled words of hope and cheer, That greet the morn when day is come

And bless the day when night is near. Far be the time when, high and wide, No smoke wreaths from the chimney tops Send cheer to all the countryside

And all the hum of labor stops; When men are dumb, and children wail, And hearts grow sullen with despair, And food and strength and courage fail
And famine breathes in all the air! -Robert C. Tongue in Youth's Companion.

A BICYCLE CHASE.

Warwick was one of the suburbs of a large city, but the tide of fashion had not flowed in its direction, and it remained a small, compact mass of ugly classes. At the top of a hill two miles away, however, was a magnificent mansion set in the center of a large estate. The owner of this property, an eccentric First-class Work Guaranteed, old man by the name of Richard Boulden was dubbed the earl, and his house was generally known as the castle. In it Mr. Boulden lived with his granddaughter and an aged woman servant. He was reputed to be very wealthy, and the economies of his life were set down by the good people of Warwick as the eccentricities of a miser. There is no doubt that he was miserly, and he had good reason for it, which he did not care to give out to the world at large. The truth was that he was as poor as a 61 to 67 Hancock St. church mouse, and his fine property was heavily mortgaged. The only ambition he had in life was to pay off this mortgage so as to leave his estate unincumbered to his orphan granddaughter, Edith, the only other survivor of his race. She was such a lovely young girlso pretty and yet so modest, so bright and yet so considerate of others' feelings—that all who met her liked her. on earth to Mr. Boulden, for she was the only solace of his retired life. One day her friend went away for a week, and with great generosity loaned her bicycle to Edith while she was gone. Edith was intensely delighted and the castle grounds. Considerably tired, she went to bed very early and was soon asleep.

thought Edith as she slipped away from the door.

She must get help, but where? From Warwick, of course. But how? Why, on that dear, blessed bicycle peacefully stabled by the front porch. The thought was inspiring, and, bracing up her courage, she stole down stairs. Carefully She seemed the most perfect creature opening the door a little bit, she noticed a team hitched near by which evidently belonged to the burglats. Her first idea was to get in the burglars' wagon and drive off, but the sight of the prancing horses, which were much scared by the the poorest girl in Warwick, since her storm, shook her self confidence, especially as she knew well her poor ability did not see that the lack of many small as a driver. They jumped into the wagon and came after her, shouting for her to right, unselfish life spent amid poverty stop. But she pedaled down the steep grade as fast as she could. She had a fair start and knew she could outdistance them if she could only keep in the good part of the road and not upset.

Suddenly she had a bad fall, happily receiving no serious injuries. Mounted and off again, she soon after had another one. "This will never do," she thought. Her nerves were unstrung by the tumbles, but she kept on as fast as ever. How glad she was to turn a corner into the main street of Warwick. Riding to the nearest house, she aroused the inmates. Three or four men lived there, and they all quickly dressed and procured a team. Then they made a dash up to the castle as fast as they could. Nothing was seen of the two burglars on the way, however, and it is neighborhood as soon as they found it impossible to catch up to or stop Edith in her wild ride for help.

Mr. Boulden was found just as Edith had last seen him. He was soon released and given stimulants.

When he heard of his granddaughter's brave exploit, a proud smile went over his face.

"She is a true Boulden," said he. "She has all our bulldog tenacity. I have some of it, you know. Without boasting, I may say that I had made up my mind that I would suffer any tortures rather than disclose where I had hid that money. And I would, believe spent all that afternoon riding around me. However, Edith has conquered an obstinate old man. She shall have her bicycle, and the best one that money can buy. CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning Nov. 15. Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle. Topic.—A good education. What it is and how to get it.—Prov. viii, 11; ix, 9, 10.

The word education is usually limited to the training of the mind. But it has a much broader meaning. It refers prionly mentally, but physically and spiritually as well. The man consists of a body, mind and a soul. He only has a good education who has all three trainis a good thing. The proper use and care of the body are constantly emphasized in the Bible. The physical may be called the foundation of the mental and spiritual. An imperfect or weakened body very much interferes with the best action of a sound mind. This is an age when the care of the physical man is emphasized. It is a matter for congratulation that it is so. A good education includes the education of the mind. The Bible is not antagonistic to mental education, as many suppose. Joseph was learned in all the wisdom of the Egyptians, and Daniel in that of the Babylonians. Solomon was the wisest man of his day, and the wise men of the east were among the first to come and worship the Saviour. The opportunities that we have today for mental education are many. They should be embraced as far as possible. Every Christian young man and woman should strive for the highest education possible. Consecrated wisdom and knowledge make us able to do more for God and humanity.

But, of all, the education of the soul is the most important. True wisdom will not neglect the spiritual side of a man's character. True wisdom not only demands a developed body and a trained mind, but that the right principles of life should govern the body and mind in their actions. God and the future life must be taken into consideration in the education of the man as well as man himself and this life. Man is something more than body and brain. He is a responsible being. His actions are moral as well as physical and mental. No education of the body or mind will make up for the neglect or refusal to educate the soul. How can the whole man be educated? There is only one rule in the educational world, but one royal road to learning, and that is study and practice. Knowledge is gained by learning, and wisdom by practicing constantly what we learn. Let us seek such an education, such wisdom. "For wisdom is better than rubies, and all things that may be desired are not to be compared

The most foolish of all the bets so far reported, however, because it was so dangerous, was one in which the loser agreed to slide head foremost down a 20 foot ladder to the ground. The unfortunate pluckily attempted to live up to the letter of his contract, but as he happened to weigh in the neighborhood of 200 pounds the effort was attended with disaster. He slid beautifully for about five feet, when he lost his grip on the ladder, and the balance of the descent was made in record breaking time. They are grow ing steadily worse instead of steadily better There is no reason why almost every wo-man should not be well and strong. Over thirty years ago, Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buf-falo, an eminent and successful specialist in the treatment of the diseases of women, discovered a wonderful specific for woman's discases that has since become world-famous as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It cures all forms of female weakness and disease. Its effect is immediately perceptible in the control of the control ble in the better feeling of the patient. It forces out impurity, soothes the inflammation that is always present in disorders of this kind, promotes regularity, and stops debilitating drains on the system. It cures of appetite, lack of vitality.

My brother Ned, who has a fancy
For pets of all sorts, brought one day
Some goldfish to the room where Nancy. With her four kits beside her, lay. And mother thought it rather risky. "For cats are fond of fish, my dear, And kittens can't help being frisky. I wouldn't put temptation near.'

But the glass bowl, with water brimming. Stood all a-sparkle in the light. And round and round the goldfish swimming Were really such a pretty sight That Ned protested: "I shall teach her They're not for her to touch," he said.

And, lifting up the purring creature, He tapped her smartly on the head.

"Attention, Puss! See here a minute"-As Nancy squirmed beneath his thumb— "These fish are mine, and you're not in it! You'll catch what Paddy gave the drum, And more besides, first time I find you So much as winking at 'em. See?

Just tuck that in your noddle, mind you, And keep a sharp lookout for me!'

And Nancy gave herself a shake And marched off, tail up, mighty huffy, But looking very wide awake. "She knows which side her bread is buttered!" Laughed Ned. "She knows the goose hangs

But mother still her warning uttered, "She'll eat those goldfish by and by."

He put her down, all rough and fluffy,

"Not she!" And he declared he'd risk it. "Why, Nancy was nobody's fool.
He'd bet his head against a biscuit
She wouldn't!" so ran off to school.
For some domestic thing or other There came, in Bridget's dulcet tone And then the cat was left alone.

THE DELAWARE MUDDLE. Dupant's Friends Think They See a Chance For Him In the Senate.

Wilmington, Del., Nov. 16 .- The near approach of the opening of the second session of the Fifty-fourth congress has given rise to the report here that Colonel Dupont will renew his contest for a seat left by Ash stated that both had quar. in the senate as a representative of Delaware.

The announcement of this conten plated renewal of the Dupont case has imparted a new and interesting phase L. J. PASTOR, Ph. G., to the contest for the senatorship from Delaware. The Democrats are now i the throes of a contest as to who shall h the choice for senator of the Democrat legislature on Jan. 15. J. E. Addicks now fighting in the courts for 16 seats in the legislature on the ground of fraud in Kent and Sussex counties. He ex the district court here. Both men pects a decision on Thursday, and if i is against him he will make a contest at Washington.

In view of all these conditions it is hoped by Colonel Dupont's friends tha the senate will avoid any new compli cations in the Delaware senatorshi again by recognizing Dupont's clair and giving him a seat.

Prodigals in Prison.

The largest audience for many months was gathered in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium Sunday afternoon to hear Prison Evangelist Elgar speak on "Prodigals in Prison." His address was filled with incidents in his experience as an evangelist with special warning to young men and boys to avoid the things that lead to crime, closing with an appeal to them to lead Christian lives. His talk made a very deep impression. Mr. Elgar will speak to the boys again next Saturday morning at 9.30, on "Boys in the Reformatories."

Next Sunday Prof. P. H. Buechler of Boston will give another of his talks on music.

Unexpected Rally for Charles L, Hammond at Wollaston.

Two Hundred Will Stand by Nominee of the Convention.

An Open Letter to Ward Five Republican Nominees.

> There is to be a pretty fight in Wollaston, not only for the Mayoralty, but over the candidates for the City Council, if the present Republican nominees bolt the Republican ticket for Mayor. It is certain that many Wollaston Republicans have been disgusted with themselves all the year because they bolted the ticket last year, and they will not only fall into line this year, but they will work to retrieve the party for the injury done. The movement did not get a start before the caucus, being lame in not filing a list of delegates, but it has taken a wonderful impetus since, only needing a little organized effort. The following open letter has been Ward Three, Pre. 1, 438

W. S. Pinkham GENTLEMEN,-We, the undersigned, citi on the third floor of the new block of the clip of Quincy, most respectfully ask, if in the event of Mr. Charles L. Hamask this, inasmuch as you have already re-ceived the regular Republican nomination, as members to the City Council, from this ward. Please answer and oblige.

Yours respectfully, John H. Roberts. Charles H. Backus, Edward E. Brown, Forrest R. Mills. Charles A. McFarland, John N. Emerson, Thomas F. Mitchell. Frederick S. Jacobs, W. I. Tuckerman, Thomas H. Bain. John A. McKie, Samuel Brown, Lysander W. Nash, Charles B. Huston. Arthur C. Burrell,

In Ward Five last year Charles M. Bryant was low man of the three elected, having 294, to 93 for George W. Brown, there is an organized bolt against the Psalm 102, verses 23 to 27, set to music by Ward Five, 62, and Ward Six, 6. Republican nominee for Mayor, it is said John Wrigley, F. R. A. M., of England, that about 200 Ward Five Republicans will father of organist Frank F. Wrigley. The vote for the Democratic candidates for the bass solo was exceptionally good and was by Mr. J. Democrats and "Antis."

The one matter that is interesting the citizens this morning is, who will be nominated to run against Mr. Hammond? The Democrats are still casting their net about for a candidate but as far as known they have not succeeded in catching any-

There are several whom the old liners would like to nominate but they will not take the nomination, and those who would like the nomination the old liners do not want. But there is some question as to how much influence the old crowd have with the delegations, for it is well known that several of the present Democratic City Committee were turned down at the recent rilla, "Sales Talk," and cancuses and that the younger element is show that this medion top, and this young element is favorable cine has enjoyed public confidence and to Fred F. Green.

However, the present City Committee have been holding conferences almost every night, but as fast as they settled upon a candidate that gentleman comes forward and withdrew.

The apparent object of the Democratic Sarsaparilla, like Hood's Sarsaparilla it-City Committee is to nominate some self, are honest. We have never deceived gentleman whom the bolting Republicans will endorse, for in this they see their only hope of defeating Mr. Hammond.

The plan now seems to be to have Mr. Faxon and his followers select some Republican as an independent candidate, between now and Tuesday night when the Democrats will come forward in their convention and endorse him. This would be all right if it works but the Democratic City Committee seem to forget that the time has passed when anything they say goes, for the new crowd will come pretty near dictating to the old crowd.

That an Independent candidate will b nominated there is no question, for Mr. Faxon took out nomination papers this morning. It is pretty certain that the gentleman was decided upon at the little conference held yesterday, for it is said that the war horses who were floating about City Square Sunday morning met somewhere on Granite street. Just who they decided upon is not known, but rumor has it that Mr. Federhen refused to run independent and that Stephen O. Moxon consented to run, and that the nominations papers taken out this morning were for the latter gentlemen.

Will the Democrats in convention Tuesday night give him their endorsement? HOOD'S PILLS cure Liver Ills,

Inflammatory Rheumatism:

OFFICE OF J. P. GREER, COUNTY JUDGE, I Green Cove Springs, Clay Co., Fla. I Sentlemen: Twenty-three years ago I was attacked with inflammatory rheumatism. I was attended by the most eminent physician in the land. I visited the great Saratoga Springs, N. Y., the noted Hot Springs of Arkansas, and many other watering places, always consulting with the local physicians for directions, and finally came to Florida, ten years ago. About two years ago I had a severe attack of rheumatism, was confined to my room for twelve weeks, and during that time was induced to try P. P. P., Lippman's Great Remedy, knowing that each ingredient was good for impurities of the blood. After useing two small bottles I was relieved. At four different times since I have had slight attacks and each time I have taken two small bottles of P. P. P., and have been relieved, and I conuder P. P. P. the best medicine of its kind.

MANSLAUGHTER CHARGED. Henry Soule in Court For Alleged Killing of Edwin F. Moore.

Wiscasset, Me., Nov. 17. - Henry C. Soule was placed on trial before Chief Justice Peters yesterday on a charge of manslaughter, arising from the mysterious death of Edwin F. Moore at Waldoboro five years ago. He waived the reading of the indictment, pleaded not guilty and expressed himself ready for trial. County Attorney Hall opened the case for the government with an address to the jury. He stated circumstances connected with the finding of the body of Edwin E. Moore on the morning of Sept. 27, 1891, in the rear of the Exchange hotel at Waldoboro. Three witnesses testified at the afternoon session. Dr. Alden testified that he, with Dr. Everleth, since deceased, was called to view the body at the Moore inquest. He found all the ribs on the right side broken, the liver ruptured, the throat showing marked evidences of strangulation, either one of which injuries would found on the dead man's hip pocket and a bottle of liquor at his side. George F. Brackett, proprietor of the Exchange hotel in September, 1891, was not at home on the day of the trouble tained of Lavalette's recovery. (Sunday), but returned that night. He said: "Soule, McCarthy and Moore were in the barroom that evening. They came to my room adjoining the bar after I had retired, and had some dispute about a board bill. McCarthy and Moore went out, and Soule remained and paid me what he had received from the receipts of the bar during the day. When Soule went out I asked him if he would net take an eye-opener home with him. Soule went into the barroom and soon after left for home."

Mean Way to Get Vengeance Norwich, Vt., Nov. 17 .- An official postmorten examination, on the carcasses of 17 cows of Thomas Hazen, which died so suddenly last Friday, was held yesterday. Mr. Hazen is a grany jury man, and it is believed that somebody was seeking vengeance on him for his recent action in favor of indicting the offenders in cases of illegal liquor selling and highway robbery.

Someone Used Dynamite. to wreck the large brick apartment house, "The Hyland," located at 115 Dale street, Roxbury. Two attempts in this direction have already been made, the last one early yesterday morning, when some person, at present unknown, tried to shatter it by using forcite. Only a few days ago a catastrophe was averted by the timely discovery of the fact that the water had run out of the boiler, and that the steam gauge was rising with alarming rapidity. This discovery prevented violent consequences, but the attempt to cause disaster by the use of the fearful combination of nitro-glycerine, known as forcite, was, at least, partially successful. > Proud of the Fact That He Has Not a Single Promise to Redeem.

Cleveland, Nov. 17.-Chairman Hanna of the Republican national committee was tendered a complimentary banquet last night at the Union club. The affair was planned by some of Mr. Hanna's close friends and ward admirers, who are members of the club, and the invitations were limited to members of the organization, which is the most exclusive in the city. The arrangements were on an elaborate scale. Myron T. Herrick presided, and acted as toast master, and addresses of a complimen tary nature were delivered, to which Mr. Hanna made happy responses.

Colonel Herrick, in the course of hi address, said: "The people of this country have passed a great crisis. It was a great conflict, a great cause, with a great commander and a great candidate. The forces which won the victory were mar shaled and led by that incomparable himself through the right temple, dying leader, who is our guest tonight. I propose the health of Mark Hanna.

of the chairs while in the hotel office it was several inches in depth. The most damage is probably to the Granite Shoe store where smoke and water almost ruined the entire stock, as the force of the stream knocked the boxes of shoes in all directions and soaked everything. In the Granite bank room it is impossible to tell the damage, for the fire seemed to be the hottest in the basement directly underneath. The damage here will be quite heavy in consequence thereof. Chief of Police Hayden was early on the scene and roped off Granite street and also had officers on guard at the stores to keep Arrangement of the Hall Represents a New England Village.

The six days Kirmess, or New England Village fair, under the auspices of Paul Revere Post 88, G. A. R., in aid of the relief fund of the Post, opened at Hancock hall Monday night, the attendance being fairly large. The Kirmess is a new idea and is unique as well as new, and is certainly well worth a visit if for nothing more than to see the scenery which is arranged about the hall.

Everybody realizes that business has been quiet and that money is scarce, and it is just this scarcity of money that makes Warren Mitchell; the sailor's hornpipe and fund more frequent, and that those who went to the front in '61, may not suffer, it behoves everybody, both young and old, rich and poor, to attend this Kirmess and help the good cause along, for any money spent, no matter how little, helps, and goes to swell the amount needed by the post to supply the wants of comrades during the feetly honorable in all business transactions coming winter.

Two Diseases That Cause Their Victims to Be Shunned by Their Fellow-Man.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. GENTLEMEN: I commenced taking P. P. P., Lippman's Great Remedy, last Fall, for Erysipelas. My face was completely covered with the disease; I took a short course of P. P. P., and it soon disappearea. This Spring I became much debilitated and again took another course, and I am now in good condition. I consider P. P. P. one of the best blood preparations on the market, and for those who need a general tonic to build up the system and improve the appetite I consider that it has no equal. Will say, anyone who cares to try P. P. will not be disappointed in its results, and I, therefore, cheerfully recommend it.

ARTHUR WOOD. Springfield, Mo. Erysipelas and Scrofula cured by P. P. P., Lippman's Great Remedy, surely and without fail. SPRINGFIELD, Mo. GENTLEMEN: Last June I had a scrofulous sore which broke out on my ankle. It grew rapidly, and soon exr tended from my ankle to my knee. I got one bottle of your P. P. P., Lippman's Great Remedy, and was agreeably surprised at the result. The entire sore healed at once. I think I have taken almost every medicine recommended for scrofula and catarrh, and your P. P. P. is the best I have ever tried. It cannot be recommended too highly for blood poison, etc.

Yours very truly, W. P. HUNTER. P. P. P. cures all blood and skin disease, both in men and women. Rheumatism, which makes man's life hell upon earth, can be relieved at once by P. P. P., Lippman's Great Remedy. It makes a PERMANENT cure.
P. P. P. is the great and only remedy

DINGLEY'S TARIFF BILL

Viewed In Different Lights by Republicans In the Senate.

No Longer Considered an Emergency Measure.

Matter Will Be Discussed In Caucus as Soon as Congress Meets.

Washington, Nov. 17 .- Senator Shernan will call a meeting of the Republiley bill, the only tariff measure pending, and the only one which, it is thought, could possibly be passed the coming session. Chairman Morrill and the other Republicans of the finance committee, after their disagreeable experiences last ession, when they were twice disapinted in their expectation of getting he support of the majority of the senate for the consideration of the bill, would not think of bringing it forward again without being directed to do so by a vote of the caucus.

IS NOT A WAR SCARE.

Our Important Harbors Need Better Protection on General Principles.

Business Men of Large Cities Are Interested.

Strong Efforts Being Made to Create Patriotic Sentiment In the Matter.

Boston, Nov. 18.—Thomas T. Wright of Tampa, Fla., was in the city yesterday, to deliver invitations to Acting Governor Wolcott and John M. Little, president of the Merchants' club, to attend the southern states' harbor defense convention, which is to be held at Tampa on Jan. 20. The invitations are in the shape of circular letters, issued by Governor Mitchell of Florida to the governors of the different states, and to representative men in the principal cities. A reporter saw Commissioner Wright in the afternoon, and was informed of the object of the call, which is to form an alliance between all sections and parts of the country, looking to the improvement and better protection of important har-bors on the coasts. Mr. Wright explained that there is no hint of a war scare in

Governor Mitchell's call refers particularly to the gulf and south Atlantic harbors, which, Mr. Wright pointed out, are very much more in need of protection than those in the north. Charleston, he said, is in fair condition, but a hostile fleet would have no trouble at all in making its way into Sayannah, New Orleans or Mobile. New Orleans is in a wors condition than she was in the war, an the advance made in the equipment for naval warfare would render her position in the event of a foreign invasion, a sti more precarious one.

Glenwood Ranges AND Parlor Stoves While the southern harbors are con sidered first, Mr. Wright said that the country as a whole. For that reason, a talked-of trouble with Spain. It is large representation from the north is learned from pretty good authority that expected, in the hope that the end for these are not the only fortifications that which the movement aims may be more will be placed in this harbor. It is easily gained. It is doubtful if Governor Wolcott will be able to attend, but Mr. begin to boom business, and there is Wright is particulary desirous of having very little doubt that an appropriation Boston represented. He says he has of $200,000 for a new dry dock will be very pleasant recollections of business passed at the coming session. dealings with the older members of the Boston commercial community.

'We also hope," he contin large delegations from Philadelphia, New York and Pittsburg. I have been out to St. Paul, and all the way east I have found the people much in favor of the idea. The chamber of commerce of Pittsburg will probably send a large delegation, and I am sure of the same in the case of New York. We will devise ways and means for the attainment of our object, and, if necessary, will bring pressure to bear on the government. "Invitations have been sent to President Cleveland and Major McKinley. We expect to create a patriotic sentimen in this matter, which will be valuable should war again come to this country You will find that under the old flag the conservative element in the south, as in the north, will not tolerate anarchy or anything else.

"The convention will not have any political significance, but it is intended only to give rise to a patriotic outburst and a revival of good fellowship. I think cessful attempt at murder and suicide it will be productive of great good. We shall endeavor to secure the attendance of several war vessels during the convention, and we hope to have experts present, who will give us information in regard to the best means of constructing defenses speedily, in the event of emergency. There will probably be 600 or 70 delegates present, and the meetings, of course, will be open to the public."

Mr. Wright said that he thought there was no necessity for costly defenses, and that a great many improvements had been made in connection with harbor defenses which rendered them less expen sive than formerly. The commissioner You can buy Coal of us at just the same prices leaves for New York this evening.

PORTSMOUTH IS SAFE.

Will Have Nothing to Fear From Invasion of Foreign Enemies.

Portsmouth N. H., Nov. 18 .- Old Portsmouth is at last going to get protection in case of a war. The harbor, which has been entirely without protec tion, as well as the navy yard, is all to be changed, and it is expected that before a year has gone by Portsmouth harbor will be impregnable to foreign battleships. On Saturday last the United States engineers corps of Portland Me., were at Newcastle looking over and laying out plans for placing fortification at that point. A battery consisting of two 8-inch disappearing guns is to be placed near the site of the famous old Walsbach We are seeking after your trade in the future tower. The fortification is to be in the form of two-thirds of a circle, with a 150foot radius, the guns to sweep from north to east. This means that the lighthouse keepers' house, the old fort before mentioned, and several of the gun houses and probably the sergeants' house will have to be torn down to make

Woman's Alliance.

Nearly forty ladies were present at the Woman's Alliance of the First church Tuesday afternoon. After business matters, the president, Miss Johnson of Weymouth, gave a talk upon the "Growth of the Pentateuch." Miss Hattie Johnson gave a paper on the putting together of these books. Mrs. George G. Saville read a paper prepared last season on Deuteronomy, taking each chapter with its story and opinions of various writers.

This is the complaint of thousands at this season.

They have no appetite; food does not relish. They need the toning up of the stomach and digestive organs, which a course of Hood's Sarsaparilla will give them. It also purifies and enriches the blood, cures that distress after eating and internal misery only a dyspeptic can know, creates an appetite, overcomes that tired feeling and builds up and sustains the whole physical system. It so promptly and efficiently relieves dyspeptic symptoms and cures nervous headaches, that it seems to have almost "a magic touch."

MIDNIGHT FIRE.

St. Mary's Hall Again the Scene-Roof Burned Off.

The fire department was worked hard Tuesday and after contending with the stubborn fire during the day were entitled to a good night's rest, but it was called out again at midnight by an alarm from Box 45, for a fire at St. Mary's hall on Willard

It was shortly before midnight when Officer Daveran was coming down Willard street toward West Quincy when he saw flames issuing from the roof of St. Mary's hall. He hastened to Box 45 and sent in the alarm.

When the department arrived they found the rear end a mass of flames which were working along the roof.

The firemen went to work with a wil and soon gallons of water were being thrown onto the burning building, and after nearly an hour's hard work the fire was out but not before the entire roof had been burned off.

The fire did not get below the eaves al though the hall and lower floor were badly

The cause of the fire is a mystery. There was no fire in the boiler and the members of the society hold to the belief that the cause was incendiary.

This is not the first time this building has been on fire, and on previous occasions it was claimed that the cause was incenfound to have started from the steam pipes. Chief Williams places the loss on the building at $1000, but outside of this there will be a heavy loss in rentals of the hall for it had been engaged for a number of

Every general election in this country is a trial of free government, and not less truly a trial of those institutions through which we are attempting to work out free government. If every new peril affects us with new anxiety, every new triumph justifies added confidence in our institutions and renewed trust in the formally elected to that office by the genintelligence and capacity of our people for self-government. We have just had a test of the capacity of universal suffrage to deal with the question so confessedly difficult that in other countries for General William Phillips, and the Republicans gave their three votes to it is committed to trained experts and specially educated statesmen. That test has been made under conditions least favorable to a safe and correct judgment, at a time when it was necessary to undo much erroneous teaching. judgment, at a time when it was necessary to undo much erroneous teaching for which both political parties and leading statesmen in both parties were responsible, and amid widespread industrial stagnation that made the public mind a ready seed-bed for the germination of dangerous ideas. Nobody but Sheriff Knows Where It Is and a Writ Is Out For Him.

Fall River, Mass., Nov. 19.-Mrs. Antoine Leblanc can't find the body of her dead infant. It was taken from Undertaker John T. Martin's shop Tuesday, under attachment proceedings. The whereabouts of the remains of the child are unknown, and a $10,000 tort suit is threatened against Deputy Sheriff Harfield, and a lot of litigation is promised. The Leblane child's remains were taken to Undertaker Martin's shop last Monday, and burial was to occur Tuesday.
Dr. Samuel J. Kelly had a bill against Undertaker Martin, and before the burial of the Leblanc child Deputy Sheriff Hadfield served an attachment on the place and cleaned it out. The carpets, furnishings and coffins were taken away. In one of the latter lay all that was morta of the Leblanc infant. Hadfield's at-torney, D. V. Sullivan, claims that the sheriff didn't know anything of the pres ence of a dead body.

Mrs. Leblanc has been too sick to get out, but yesterday she mustered up courage enough to leave her bed when she heard that her child's remains could not be found. She consulted H. Ringrose who sent Dr. Cummings, chairman of the board of health, to look for the re

In the meantime Deputy Sheriff Brierly went looking for Deputy Sheriff Had feld with a writ for $10,000 in favor o Undertaker Martin. Hadfield is out o town, and no one knows where the body can be found.

Martin claims that all of the furnishngs in his shop were mortgaged to Addie M. Smith of Brockton, and that the coffins belonged to the New Haven Casket company. Mrs. Leblane threatens to sue Deputy Sheriff Hadfield.

Thirty-three coffins were searched last night without success for the body of the child.

The property of Deputy Sheriff Had-field has been attached. SOULE TESTIFIES.

Says He Never Laid Hands on Moore, Who He Is Accused of Killing.

Wiscasset, Me., Nov. 19.-There was : large crowd of spectators in the courtroom at the third day's session of the Soule manslaughter trial yesterday. Considerable time was taken up in detailing the description of the Exchange hotel, as it existed in 1891. Henry C. Soule, the defendant, testified in his own behalf. He gave his evidence without hesitation, and was sharply questioned. He gave the most interesting testimony of the trial. His evidence was substantially as follows: 'I am 43 years old, and in 1891 was employed at the carding mill here. I live within a six or eight minutes' walk from Exchange hotel. I have been married 21 its hands. years, and have one son living at home, aged 16. I knew Moore, the deceased four or five weeks before his body was found. I met him on the street near the Exchange hotel Sunday, Sept. 27, the last right he was seen alive. We went to the the barroom, I getting the key from George F. Brackett, the proprietor, the hotel several times that day, and in the barroom he told me that McCarthy, one of the bartenders, had been paid off, and intended to run away without paying his board. I spoke to McCarthy about the threw him over and slapped his face for munerative than for some years. calling me a liar. McCarthy finally paid the board bill and went to his room.

"The last time I saw Moore alive was in the doorway of Brackett's room, a little after 10 o'clock. I paid Brackett the money taken over the bar, and went home. I got home about 15 or 20 minutes past 10 o'clock. Brackett was not asleen when I left. I usually spent my evenings store. around town at the Exchange hotel, and frequently worked behind the bar. Monday morning I got up at 6 o'clock, and by fire. Loss, $5000. went to the mill where I worked, as usual. At 4 o'clock that afternoon I was Buell, are said to be unable to settle at rummoned to attend the inquest over the body of Moore."

In cross-examination, Soule said he had no extended conversation with Moor Sunday evening. He did not appear very much intoxicated. "I know nothing of the cause of Moore's death," said Soule, "and I did not lay hand on him. I did not see the body, and did not go to the Charges Not Sustained, Boston, Nov. 19 .- The board of commissioners of the Massachusetts nautical training school rendered a report, last evening, on the evidence presented in the notable Enterprise investigation. The gist of the report, or the specific decision, is that, excepting two or three comparatively unimportant errors of judgment or faults on the part of some setts nautical training school has been conducted satisfactorily. Captain Eaton is freed from all blame, and there was no misappropriation of funds by him. The food in quantity and quality was suited to the voyage. "AMERICAN FIREBRAND" The Title Frank Osgood Has Gaineg While Fighting For Cuba.

Philadelphia, Nov. 19.-Jose Marcas, a Cuban, who landed in the schooner Amphion a few days ago at New Orleans, and who has come north on important business with the insurgent junta in New York, declares that Frank Osgood, the famous football player of the University of Pennsylvania, is not dead, as was reported, but alive and well, and in a very important position under General Maceo. Osgood was reported as having been killed in a cavalry charge a month or two ago.

Mr. Marcas also says: "You may announce on good authority that Mr. Osgood is not dead, or was not when I left Cuba two weeks ago. He was then in the best of health and spirits, and was doing good work for our cause. So conspicuous has been his energy and bravery that General Maceo has made him chief of artillery, a position he thoroughly enjoys. Osgood's daring on the field has won for him the title of the 'American firebrand,' a name he lives up to constantly. He has the confidence of Maceo to an unusual degree, and will doubtless rise to still greater influence and rank."

McKinley and Canada. Toronto, Nov. 19 .- The Evening Telegram sent a representative to Canton, O., to interview President-elect McKinley on matters that will be interesting to Canadians, but especially as to his views concerning reciprocity with this country The major, however, was non-communicative. He regretted his inability to make any prophecy as to the result of any reciprocity negotiations. "I de not know," he said, "what the new congress will do concerning the tariff. Of course the question of reciprocity will be one of the things to be considered, for i will certainly be presented." Mr. Mc-Kinley sent this message to the peop! of Canada: "I hope that the amity and good feeling between the two countries vill continue, and that we may know more of each other as the years go on system is reached by the blood, and on its quality the condition of every organ depends. Good blood means strong nerves, good digestion, robust health. Impure blood means scrofula, dyspepsia, rheumatism, catarrh or other diseases. The surest way to have good blood is to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. This medicine purifies, vitalizes, and enriches the blood, and sends the elements of health and strength to every nerve, organ and tissue. It creates a good appetite, gives refreshing sleep and cures that tired feeling. Remember, that all would soon be well. People expected that he would make a clear statement of the case. This did not msterialize, however, and in June, before things had reached any more of an acute stage than general unrest, it was announced that Farwell was going to Europe to obtain health and strength. Then he would come back and make all the aspects of the case clear. He went to Europe, accompanied by

He says he left the missing banker in such a state of health that it would be a physical impossibility for him to attempt to cross the ocean in the windy months of the autumn.

The popular feeling has reached the extent that Farwell will naturally stay abroad. He could not return to Claremont without being arrested instantly. Those who up to within a month have felt kindly toward him have now become so embittered by the successive developments that 50 people would begin legal steps against him the minute he should appear.

Brattleboro, Vt., Nov. 20.-The New England Trout and Salmon club was formed several years ago by business men of Brattleboro, Boston and other places. The club bought a strip of land around the Marlboro South pond, a body of water covering 75 acres, and built thereon a clubhouse and hatchery. Several thousand dollars were spent in improvements, and the pond stocked with fry, and declared to be a preserve. The people of Marlboro, who had always taken trout from the pond, felt that they had been deprived of their rights, and to make a test case, David Mather and others carried a boat to the oond and fished from it. The club sued Mather, and the case went to the supreme court. On a question of law the ase was sent back to the county court for a trial on the fact. This court now decides that the waters can be used for boating purposes, and that Mather, who went to it by a highway, had committed

Many now find it a convenience to walk would be necessary to go round the first ascertain whether the city or parish owned the land. It was idle to say that no one questioned the title of the land outside the chains. There was some doubt as to the very site of the church. The town had once referred the matter to a committee, and they reported that the parish had no title. With a supreme court decision we could then tell whether the parish was making any concessions. He would like to see 50 feet more thrown into the public square and Macadamized. The convenience of a few should not be considered, but the subject discussed from a broad public standpoint. Henry H. Faxon said if the parish owned the land it ought to have pay for it, but he preferred the street should remain. To go around the fountain would be a detriment. He did not like to oppose the ladies interested and realized it was unpopular to sppose it. He for one would prefer that the street should include the grass plot. He thought $19,000 at interest would do the parish more good than the grass plot.

should go to the Supreme court. Ex-Councilman John Shaw said he had our streets and not contract them. The head of Washington street was a car station and the people demanded it. He favored a street in a more direct line from Coddington street to Depot street. Ex-Councilman Peter Fallon also opposed closing, and cited the fact that public scales, a reservoir and the fountian had been located on the land in question.

Thought there was doubt as to title. The hearing closed and the order was recommitted. Another hearing followed on the laying out of a portion of Merry Mount road and a private way leading therefrom, but no one appeared on either side, and the order was recommitted.

The Council adjourned at 9.10.

Pierce, Miss Small, have its rights. I am not supposed to know readily showed him his samples and Mr. Faxon tasted of five different kinds, and incidently remarked that he himself had belonged to the parish. If so, the parish sold rum at 50 cents a quart. However he liked the taste of the samples and purchased a quart of gin, a quart of angelica wine and a quart of Medford rum, paying the agent $2. Mr. Faxon gave his name as Jeffrey Vincent and took a receipt in that name the understanding being that the goods should be sent by express. The defendant offered no defense, his counsel claiming that no sale had been made as no goods had been delivered.

Counsel for the government claimed there was a sale as the contract called for the delivery of the goods in Quincy. If the goods were to be sent from Boston at Mr. Faxon's risk then the sale was in Boston fountain. He contended that we should but as they were to be sent at the agent's risk the sale was made in Quincy.

The court continued the case for judg ment until next Wednesday.

Not Satisfied.

Mr. James P. Clare of this city has been nterviewed by the Herald relative to the report of the Enterprise commission. He Agent for C. Patch & stated that he was not surprised at the tenor of the report, and it was not unexpected, from the biased attitude of the commission on the matter. He has a COM and WOOD stenographic report of the proceedings before the commission, and that report contains enough to substantiate his claim for a legislative investigation of the commission. He is making preparations to secure the intervention of the incoming Legislature in the matter, and is sanguine that upon a presentation to that body of the facts in the case that a hearing will be

That Wollaston Letter.

The genuineness of that open letter to the Ward Five Republican candidates for Councilmen is in question. It was published in the LEDGER of Monday, as furnished, but it was all in one hand writing, and presumably a copy. Whether the names appended were actually signed by the persons themselves, the LEDGER does not know, but received the news in good faith from one whose name was appended. Just how many signed is also unknown, the LEDGER being furnished with only those published. The closing line "and 200 others" being a part of the copy. Unless the nominees are furnished with the original petition it is doubtful if they take any notice of the subject. Perhaps you'll give a card party his winter. The proper tables and chairs add much to the enjoyment of the affair. We have them to rent-cost but a trifle.

Signs That He Will Not Have a Seat In Governor Wolcott's Council.

Courts Expected to Uphold Councillor Sullivan.

Allen Gives Colored Brethren Hls Views on Circumstances of the Situation.

Sullivan are confident he will win out by a good lead. Prominent legal lights and public men in the last couple of days have been importuning Mr. Sullivan to carry the case to a finish, in justice to himself, his constituency and the state of Massachusetts. Men of both parties are taking an active interest in persuading Mr.

Governor Wolcott is said to have per sonally requested him to have the balwould be.

John H. Sullivan himself says that he will probably submit to the judgment of his friends, who have been soliciting him to take the question to the state court for a final decision.

Corporation Counsel Bailey has per mitted himself to be quoted to the following effect: "There is no question that if Mr. Sullivan allows the case to be taken into court he will be declared elected. The court will undoubtedly take into consideration the intention of the vote, and undoubtedly most of the ballots which were thrown out were intended for him.'

Mr. Allen styled himself as "the novelty candidate" last night, and went into a detailed story of how he got the nomination, or, rather, how the nom-ination was forced upon him. Where Councillor-elect Allen spoke was at the convention of the colored Republicans of Boston, the purpose of which was to nominate a candidate for the school

The convention was held in the Twelfth Baptist church, and was made up of colored citizens, every ward in the city being represented by delegates. The principal business was the endorsement of the candidacy of Edward E. Brown for the school board, and it was unanimously granted.

Councillor-elect Allen was given a rousing reception when he was intro-duced. He said: "I am glad to see the bone and sinew of the colored people cars will leave Quincy on the hour and half hour and East Weymouth at quarter past here to interview and be interviewed, not as the newspapers interviewed but to express our opinions and spread them broadcast so they shall reach the ears of the Republican machine in Boston. The colored man who has not the courage to stand up and declare his opinions had better go, for the door is open.

"A year ago I supported Dr. Samuel E. Courtney, but he was defeated, I have tested him as a friend to our race, and I tell you he does not come up to my weight. I want Mr. Brown nominated, because he best represents our people. Let him take care of the little boys and New York, New Haven girls in the schoolboard, and for one year on Beacon Hill I shall care for their fathers and mothers. "Every race and nation has a representative upon some commission or in some position, and the votes of the masses of the people have given the colored man representation in the starry council chamber. I shall be there."

A voice: "You won't sell out, will you?' "I shall be there. God says I shall go there, and I intend to go. "We know what the feeling in Mas-sachusetts is. This is not Allen's fight. 749r I did not ask for the Republican nomina 849r tion. The leaders urged me to take it, and I accepted gracefully. They thought it was an empty place on the ticket, but 12 15 they found out differently. I accepted 12 49 r gracefully and you know the result. "I have worried more governors for positions than the whole colored race in Boston. On the first Wednesday in January the novelty candidate will take his seat. What a pitiable plight the Repub-549r lican party will be in when I go up there 6 19r "My election did not rest with the 6 32 negro. It was a godsend to you that I was elected. Under the circumstances, I 7 19r am so glad I am as black as I am. When I was nominated I figured the thing out and called on Chairman Lyman and 10 53r Treasurer Merrick of the Republican state committee, and they gave ne 11 49r money to make my fight. THE WEYLER CAMPAIGN

Not Likely to Redound to the Credit of the Spanish Captain General.

An Interesting Story Told by a Cuban Editor.

Even by Spanish Element.

New York, Nov. 20.-George Bronson Rea writes: "There can be but little doubt that General Weyler's campaign has failed. It is hardly possible that it can succeed in either driving Maceo out of Pinar del Rio or inflicting a severe defeat upon him. For nine months I was in the field in Habana and Pinar del Rio provinces with General Maceo, during which time I witnessed more than 65 engagements between the Spanish and Cuban troops, 30 of which took place in the hills of Pinar del Rio. My experiences and knowledge of the country lead me to believe that the campaign of General Weyler has been a failure.

"The abandonment of Rubi by Mace does not indicate that he was defeated, as he simply escaped from the trap so and has the power to relieve and cure. carefully laid to catch him. The failure of Weyler to bring on a decisive battle on Nov. 11 will cost him a great many more men and a prolongation of his campaign indefinitely.

"The insurgents, accustomed as they are to this district, can make it very interesting for any Spanish column that penetrates the hills. Marching is don in Indian file, and some of the hills are so steep that it would be an impossibilit for a Spanish column with their artil lery and cavalry to make the ascent. Weyler fully understands the danger of following Maceo, and has given up for the time his idea of forcing him out of Manuel M. Coronado, the editor of the Cuban patriot newspaper, La Discusio published in Habana, who escaped from that city in the last days of October, after General Weyler had ordered his arrest, reached New York yesterday.

Of his escape he said: "When I learned, by private tip, that General Weyler had ordered my arrest made immediate preparations for es had secured, as a disguise, the costume of an ordinary sailor. When my house was surrounded by troops I hastily my disguise, which also included a heavy false black goatee, I slipped into the house adjoining mine, and made my esserved. It was 2 o'clock in the afternoo I jumped into a carriage, but the alar. was given, and the police pursued me another. I told my driver to keep ah and watching my opportunity, jump from the moving carriage and walke back on the pavement, mingled with th crowd, and made good my escape to th country. A few days afterward I shippe aboard a sailing vessel as a common sailor, reached New Orleans, after an uneventful trip, and came on to New York by rail, arriving this morning." In reply to a question as to the genera feeling of the people living in Cuba, h said, through an interpreter: "Today w might say that Spain holds Cuba by shee force of arms. The whole country, Spanish and Cubans alike, desire peace, ever at almost any sacrifice, and, although it is quite as pronounced in this feeling a the Cuban, and wish peace and the inde pendence of Cuba. This is accounted fo by the fact that Spain feels that Cuba again under Spanish control, would b unable to pay the enormous war debt al ready incurred, or to stand the tremer dous taxation which would inevitably be imposed by Spain upon Cuba, and that another uprising would, under thos conditions, certainly follow. Spain would have to expend great sums of money to keep Cuba in submission. The war debt now is estimated at $500,000,00 and is accumulating at the rate of $12, 000,000 a month. Spain will soon b forced, by lack of funds, to withdraw he

"The opinion I express is not that of transient Cuban residents, but of mer chants and landowners-Spanish as well as Cubans. The Spaniards express thi opinion in private only, as the public expression of it would ensure their execu tion as rebels. Weyler does not trus anyone, Spaniard or Cuban. He does as he pleases. His latest edict is that all persons, men, women or children, who are found outside of the Spanish lines shall be considered rebels and shot dow as such. This edict was published oni; in the official gazette in Habana, which circulates among Spanish officers and officials only. There was no way i which those outside of these circles could learn of the edict. There is no railroad to Pinar Del Rio from Habana, and it is in this province that the edict has cos the greatest loss of life. People take under this edict are marched outside the gates of the city and shot down by the soldiers. The reports of prisoners captured by Weyler are but the capture o these poor devils. The people would welcome anything to hasten the end." Senor Coronado said that he intended to remain in New York, but had not yet formulated any plans for future action. Intended For Spanish Chief. Habana, Nov. 20.—A railroad train was blown up Wednesday between Punta Brava and Candelaria, in Pinar Del Rio Captain General Weyler was at Candelaria for a short time Wednesday, and it is believed the authors of the explos ion supposed the captain general to b on the train which was blown up, but he had left Candelaria several hours before the explosion. The engine and severa cars were derailed. Immediately upon the explosion there were several discharges of rifle shots. The engineer fireman and conductor, six soldiers and several passengers were wounded.

Tampa, Fla., Nov. 20.-Avidees of an official nature received from Habana say that on last Sunday night Weyler was encamped on Estrada cattle pas ture, three miles from Sarva, province of Pinar Dei Rio. He had 30,000 mer with him. Nothing has been heard from him since. About 50 refugees came over yesterday.

Big Demand For Whisky, Cincinnati, Nov. 20.—There was an unusual sale of whisky yesterday, amounting to 1141 barrels, or about twice the average daily sales, for the past few weeks. The unusual demand is accounted for by the expectation of an early rise in the price of whisky.

Last Day of Kirmess.

The attendance at the G. A. R. Kirmess last evening was quite large and much interest was centered in the wheel of fortune. Many who had used up their season tickets turned them in at the "Deestric school" office and received their present, as each season ticket holder is entitled to some present. The most valuable prize was $10.

The entertainment last evening was a pleasing one each of the artists receiving an encore.

The children were admitted today at special rates.

Tonight the last night of the Kirmess will be a busy one, as all of the articles on books will be disposed of.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning Nov. 22. Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle. Topic.—Some blessings often forgotten.—Ps.

civ, 1-35. (A Thanksgiving topic.) This psalm is a tribute to the mighty power of God, and to His wisdom, as een in the providential arrangement of the natural world. It recounts many of the beneficent results of God's wisdom, which we often forget, and is therefore an appropriate text for our subject and for Thanksgiving day.

It is human nature to forget. How easy it is to forget even the greatest favors and the greatest blessings, whether they have been bestowed upon us by God or by man. And although it may appear to be unnatural, how much more readily we forget the blessings and favors of God than even those of men. God charged His people of old with forgetfulness and ingratitude above the beasts of the field. "The ox," he said, "knoweth his owner, and the ass his master's crib, but Israel doth not know, My people doth not consider." Man is intelligent. He would be supposed to appreciate blessings far above the brutes of creation, and yet they often put him to shame by their remembrance of kindnesses done to them. When Christ healed the ten lepers, only one of the ten returned to give Him thanks. This spirit of forgetfulness was not characteristic of the past alone. It is as prevalent today as it ever was.

We have greater cause for remembering God today than man ever had, because God is bestowing upon us more and greater blessings than He ever bestowed upon mankind in the past. This is true temporally and spiritually. Yet for even the greatest blessings we are not careful to thank God as we should. And if we thank Him inadequately for the great blessings, how unlikely it is that we thank Him sufficiently for blessings which are more common and ordinary.

How many are the blessings which we forget-the blessings mentioned by the psalmist here—the blessings that come from God's arrangement of nature -His control and arrangement of the water, His preservation of life, His support of life, His division of time into seasons, into day and night! Life, health, home, friends, blessings so familiar that we fail to appreciate them -how often we forget to thank God for them!

No blessing that comes from God should be forgetten. He remembers the smallest deed of kindness we perform for Him, or in the name of Christ. Can we do less than imitate God Himself? He should be our example here as in other things. God forgets nothing, not even a cup of cold water. Let us have no forgotten blessings.

Bible Readings.—Deut. iv, 9; vi, 6-12; viii, 7-20; Job viii, 11-14; Ps. ix, 17; l, 22, 23; lxxviii, 1-7; ciii, 1-5; cv, 1-5; exxxvii, 5, 6; Prov. iii, 1; xxxi, 4, 5; Isa. i, 2, 3; Lam. iii, 18-25; Luke xvii. 11-19.

Beyond Computation.

It is the work of the prophet to make known the future. Prophesying as to some things is nothing more than simply declaring the truth of the Bible. From wicked Pharaoh down to despicable Judas no better prophecies of the punishment of evil can be found anyconvenience to the flesh, but the rewards to the spirit are beyond computation .-Lutheran.

A Consecrated Worker.

There is a consecrated Christian Endeavor worker in Charlotte, N. C., who has organized seven new societies since last September. He bears the following testimony to this form of service: "I have never undertaken any work that you can't realize it yet, but you'll find has given me more pleasure than organ-Ella Wilson's birth and baptism in the | izing young people, full of enthusiastic consecration and power, into societies of Christian Endeavor." Would that many this joy .- Golden Rule.

Draw Upon Him.

When you have used the power God has already given you, then ask for more, but not until then. You may be presumptuous in asking, but God is never improvident in giving. "He is "'No,' said I, 'of course not. I am all that we ask or think" or are worthy to receive, but it is for use, not for knew I was not. hoarding. Draw upon Him for service. -Philadelphia Methodist.

Walk Five Miles to Church.

There is a Pennsylvania junior Christian Endeavor society with twothirds of its members boys. Some of these walk from four to five miles weekly to attend the meetings.

Full of Miracles.

The whole world is full of miracles, but our eyes must be pure, lest, because they are so common to us, they become dim. - Luther.

God's Refinement.

Refinement that carries us away from our fellow men is not God's refinement.

A MODERN FLAVOR.

Has Thanksgiving Observance Degenerat-

ed, After All? It seems to be generally held that the first Thanksgiving" came after the first bountiful harvest by the pilgrims and was chiefly a religious feast, and this is true enough, but this "first Thanksgiving" was not the only one. It took place in 1623, and while all who took part were seemly and devout in their demeanor there was probably no lack of hilarity and honest, hearty laughter. In this it was probably more like the modern city Thanksgiving observance than some rural Thanksgiving doings of the middle of this century and In another matter it resembled the modern day-it was marked by what must have been very like athletic sports, for the account of the day by Mr. Winslow, one of the pilgrim fathers, says:

"Among other recreations we exercised our arms, many of the Indians coming among us, and with the rest their greatest king, Massasoit, with some 90 men, whom for three days we entertained and feasted." Now for the other first Thanksgiving. It was held in 1798 in New York city and was the first observance of the holiday by the national authorities. In the course of the day a dinner was eaten at Fraunce's tavern, at which a number of patriots got shamefully drunk and had a free fight, in which an officer's nose was broken. After that they had so disgraceful a quarrel about a turkey that Hamilton swore, and when Washington heard about it he swore

If this be true, and it seems so to be then our forefathers were quite as human is the rest of us.

Before Starting.

Mrs. Coopah-Wha' fo' yoh take dat gun, Mr. Coopah? Yoh doan' want no gun to get a Thanksgiving turkey? Mr. Coopah-Yes, indeed I does, honey.

It doan' look so suspishuslike w'en l bring um home as I go by Rev. Enos Jones' house.

One Man's Memories.

It's all right to say that the old time Thanksgiving dinners were the best ever eaten and that the features of the day's celebration when we were boys incomparably better than the football and other games that are chief features now. But if you were a country boy 30 or 40 years ago you might remember some peculiarities of the day as then observed that might have Pea Coal been pleasanter. For instance, the sermons which I used to have to attend were tremendously long drawn out and exceedingly dreary efforts, and I used to sit in agony through the hour and sometimes hour and a half consumed in their delivery. Then the dinner. It was a big one at my father's house, and it took days and here. God's word is eternally true. days to get ready for it. But during all Happy is he who believes its sacred this time of preparation my life was a burteachings and who willingly adjusts his | den. All the women folks were rushed with work and therefore cross and "touchy," and when I was not kept busy helping them I was being shooed out of the way, so that I should not interfere with the progress of affairs. So many persons were asked to the dinner that we children had to wait invariably, and there were always six or seven of us. Now, my father was the chief deacon of his church, and the minister's boy was always one of the children who "waited." He was such a mean little chap that we never got on well together while our elders ate, and I generally had to box his ears.

Once I "licked him good," and then my father, the deacon, licked me better-so well that I couldn't sit down to eat the "I sat in dumb silence. What could more of our Endeavorers could taste of I was always so hungry when at last it came time to eat that I gorged myself terribly with the cold food, and my dreams those nights would be awful. Turkey Always In Evidence. Gradually the observance of the holiday has spread, until now the day is kept from Maine to California. It has not detracted from the due keeping of Christmas day in the south nor has it interfered with the observance of New Year's day in New York. It has become to the American what Christmas day is to the Englishman and something more. Widely scattered members of families endeavor to be present in order to eat their Thanksgiving dinner under the old rooftree. The turkey, which Franklin wished to make the national emblem in place of the eagle, is always in evidence on Thanksgiving day.

Claim That Indians' Original Deed of 7,000 000 Has Been Discovered.

Boston, Nov. 21.—It appears that there are in Boston several of the heirs of Jonathan Carver, who, it is claimed, was given a grant of 7,000,000 acres of land in the northwest by the Nadawissie Indians during the latter part of the last

Interest in the matter has been revived by the dispatch just sent out from Chillicothe, O., telling of the discovery there what was supposed to be the original deed, bearing the date of May 1, 1767. For many years it has been held that such a deed existed, but it could not be discovered, and so Carver's heirs could dent that such a transaction took place. THANKSGIVING SALE.

Enterprising Boys at Wollaston who are Determined to Help the Needy.

The boys who comprise the Sunny Hour Lend-a-Hand club of Wollaston are about as enterprising set of young men as can be found in any town. On Friday evening they held their annual Thanksgiving sale in the vestry which had been tastefully decorated in sort of a Moorish style, copied presumably from the Alhambra.

The boys from little Clarence Amstrong in his first pair of knickerbockers, up to Jack Simmons and Lawrence Loring, were chock full of business. They had an endless variety of good things to sell. There was Tyler Brigham, Bert Armstrong and Lawrence Loring, who had a well stocked fancy table, from which they made a good profit; then there was the refreshment table with hot chocolate and cake, not made by the boys of course for if it had been this tale would possibly not have been written, which was served by Ernest Armstrong and Richard Polson; then came a most tempting candy table over which Henry Hewitt and Avery Bennett were the presiding geniuses; Ernest Arnold was in charge of the laundyr; Jack Simmons the grab-bag; Freddie Thayer assisted by Clarence Armstrong, the peanuts; Freddie Mitchell and Emerson Bates the lemonade: and Eddie Mitchell and Harry Holmes were the genial ticket agents.

Besides all of this the boys gave an entertainment. It consisted of piano solos by Ernest Armstrong, Jack Simmons and Avery Bennett, and a duet for piano and violin by Avery Bennett and Bert Armstrong.

The officers of the club are as follows: President.-Albert S. Armstrong. Vice President,-Lawrence Loring. Treasurer,-John E. Simmons. Secretary,-Fred. Thayer.

The patroness was Mrs. W. E. Simmons.

A Studio.

We had a glimpse of the charmingly located studio of our young artist, Miss Georgianna Flint, who is doing fine work in china decorations. Her personality is shown in the refined tones and selections in her subjects. One jug of Scotch roses clustered, with a faint green panel below an ornament of gilt border. A salad dish from her figgers was done in sea mosses and shells.

Her work room is in the rear of Mr. E. W. H. Bass', where her home now is, and has six windows giving light on three sides. From the windows, views of wild pasture land, crags, and bits of natural growth that lead to wild land, which further conducts one to the new street stretching from Granite street over to the neighborhood in which the City Hospital lies.

Quincy is fast gaining city ways, and less and less will Boston be a necessity to us.

It Fell in Honest Hands.

Friday afternoon Mr. George A. Beard left his home on Elm street with a pocket book containing about $125. When he reached City hall the pocket book was missing and all efforts to find it were futile. He notified the police and it is said passed a restless night. Early today he sought the LEDGER office, and an advertisement was prepared offering a liberal reward. THE ARENA OF SPORT.

The college golf clubs continue to increase. Recently Columbia college students organized a club. The men of the College of the City of New York and the University of Pennsylvania have also formed clubs. The other colleges that have entered teams are Yale, Princeton and Columbia. Harvard was invited. but did not accept. Rutgers has a number of players that play on the New herst, Dartmouth, Exeter and other New England colleges have courses and golfers, clever and enthusiastic.

It is quite probable that the United States Golf association will father the movement to hold an intercollegiate championship next year, as suggested by James Shields Murphy of The Golfer, and the question will no doubt be discussed by the executive committee and presented at the annual meeting. A movement was also suggested for an intercollegiate team championship.

Anxious For the Fight.

Now that Bob Fitzsimmons has gone so San Francisco, where he is matched to meet Tom Sharkey in a ten round contest before the Occidental Athletic club on Dec. 9 for a purse of $10,000, the sporting men of this country only hope that nothing will prevent the contest from taking place. Every one is anxious to see what chance Sharkev has with Fitzsimmons. While they are perfectly satisfied that Lanky Bob will win, they are at present making bets on the number of rounds Sharkey will last. The general opinion is that Sharkey will not last any more than five rounds. Fitzsimmons said before leaving on Saturday that if Sharkey is not a better man when he meets him than he was on the night that he boxed with John L. Sullivan in Madison Square Garden every one can bet that he will put Sharkey to sleep before four rounds are over. - | IN New York World.

Cyclers Are to Blame.

There have been about 18 fatal bicycle accidents this year in and about New York, and with only two or three exceptions the cyclers have been to blame. Six cyclers have been run over by trucks or wagons, and four of these accidents were due to carelessness on the part of the riders themselves. Four have been run down by cable cars as a result of riding in the cable slot. There have been three collisions between wheelmen riding in opposing directions because of transgression of the rules of the road. There was one accident from coasting and four that were due directly to carelessness. It would seem that with these examples before them wheelmen would exercise more caution. - Buffalo Ex-veler, who is now under the ban of life suspension from all L. A. W. races, feels aggrieved that C. M. Murphy and L. D. Cabanne, who were suspended with him, are again racing, while the league officials refuse to take any notice of his or claims for reinstatement. Titus has tion: made repeated appeals to the racing sale of intoxicating liquors in this city board for reinstatement. He has now decided to send a petition to the national assembly for a removal of his suspension, and it is said that he will ask Chief Consul Potter to present his petition to that assembly. It is expected that the speedy racer will be reinstated.

A Bowling Tour.

Another tour of Brooklyn bowlers similar to that of last season is being arranged. The team will leave New York on Jan. 26, playing the same evening either in Goshen or Middlestopping place, where two days will be spent playing championship games with the Buffalo league clubs. From Buffalo the men will go to Niagara Falls, then to Pittsburg, Wheeling, Bellaire, O., Cincinnati, Louisville, St. Louis, Kansas City, Lawrence, Kan., and Chicago. A regular schedule of games will be mapped out in the above named towns against the strongest teams.

Football Captains.

The captains of some of the different college football teams in the country are follows: Harvard, Wrightington; Yale, Murphy; Cornell, Beacham; Princeton, Cockran; Pennsylvania, Wharton; Lafayette, Wallbridge; Williams, Ryan; Amherst, Warren; Lehigh, Gonsulos; Dartmouth, McCormack; University of Stanford, Fickert; University of California, Ransome: University of Illinois, Beebe; Brown university, Colby; Carlisle Indians, Pierce; University of Michigan, Serter.

Sporting Notes.

Ottinger may trot in the east next season. He is at 2:0934, but can trot still faster. President Maffit of the St. Louis Fair association states that he will retire Dec. 1 at the annual meeting of the association. George Munroe, the American boxer, is doing well in England. He got a decision over Jack Maloney in ten rounds at Lambeth the other night. Bray, the Lafayette college full back, the only good outfielder on that team. Jack, the 13-year-old son of Pilot Medium, came pretty near making a world's record when he won a third heat at St. Joseph, Mo., recently in 2:1334. H. H. McLane, an American in London, will offer a trophy worth £100 to 0 the Henley regatta stewards, to be competed for by the crews from the leading colleges of Great Britain and the United States.

Rev. Mr. Lynn, an able and eloquent divine from Boston, will occupy the desk tomorrow.

The nomination papers which were taken out on behalf of Mr. John H. Roberts of Wollaston for the Council have been returned unfiled to City Clerk Keith. It was supposed at one time that the three Democratic nominees for Councilmen at, Wollaston would withdraw and that a sort of a fusion ticket would be put up, but this Best team string (South Bostons, Oct. 27), 927 has apparently fallen through.

was given in the Presbyterian church on Water street Wednesday evening. There was a large and appreciative audience. The programme included three choruses, which were sung with spirit and expression, under the direction of Mr. Charles J. Stewart, soprano solos by Miss Jane Duthie, Miss Eliza Hutchinson and Master Warren Mitchell, readings by Miss Henrietta Esson and Miss Mary Joss, a male quartette by Messrs. Warmington, Jenkins, Peach and Stewart, a duet by Messrs. Warmington and Pierce of the Quincy quartette, a clarinet solo by Mr. Alex. Raleigh, a quartette by Misses Eliza Hutchinson and Mary Milne, Messrs. George Bowman and George Gustafson, a solo by Mr. Bowman, a duet by Mr. and Mrs. Peach, and a trio by Miss Hutchinson. Mrs. Peach and Miss Milne. The other members of the chorus were Miss Jennie McDonald and Messrs. Alex. Clark, Wm. T. Cummings and John Tyler. Miss Jennie Philips was the efficient accompanist. The concert was given by the Board of Trustees, and Mr. Peter W. Dackers presided.

THE BANK CLEARINGS

The Most Favorable Feature of the Week In Business Circles.

Demand For Goods Is Smaller Than Expected.

Recent Trade Depression Reflected In Reports

New York, Nov. 21.—Bradstreet's says: Jobbers and other wholesale dealers in general merchandise do not report the anticipated increase in the volume of goods distributed this week. The mild weather had an unfavorable influence, but the sharp drop in the temperature inclines to stimulate the demand for seasonable fabrics. There are increased purchases of holiday goods, and the tone of the market for staples is one of enouragement. Relatively the heaviest emand has been for dry goods, shoes and groceries, but even in these lines, particularly dry goods, the volume has een smaller than expected, and disappointmnt is a result. There has been no decrease in the jobbing trade. In fact, it is slightly larger than a week ago, in most lines tending to increase.

The many industrial enterprises which have started up continue a feature of each day's news bulletin, but there is reason to believe the significance of these exhibits has been over-emphasized in

The tendency of hides and leather to advance checks orders for shoes, and while the dry goods market is firm and iealers are hopeful; print cloths have weakened on the reaction in the price of cotton. The strength of raw wool is naintained, and orders at recent quotations have been refused.

Iron and steel industries in some instances have perfected pools for the allotment of production and maintenance of prices. While the latter are firm and may go higher, demand is temporarily

In addition to changes in the prices noted, the week is marked by reactions n quotations for wheat, corn and oats, or sugar, turpentine, pork, lard, coffee and petroleum. Wheat flour advances, as do several varieties of lumber, iron heets and tobacco. Combination among ron and steel makers are expected to advance or maintain recent advances or nails, bar iron, steel beams, rails and pillets and other forms of steel.

The gain of nearly 10 per cent over the week last year is due largely to increases of more than 18 per cent at New York, 40 per cent at San Francisco, 10 per cent at Boston, and 7 per cent at

There were 308 business failures in the United States this week, 50 more than last week, but 15 fewer than in the corresponding week one year ago, 13 more than in the like week in 1894,

Gross and net railway earnings for nine months reflect the severe trade depression which culminated in the stagnation preceding the late presidential election. Favorable results earlier in the ear have not been maintained, and the endency is to wipe out the gains shown early in the year, as contrasted with 1895. Total earnings of 136 railroads, embracing 65 per cent of the railway earning apacity of the country, aggregate $576,-982 922 for nine months of the calendar rear, an increase over the like period in 1895 of 1.6 per cent, following a gain in 1895 over 1894 of 5 per cent. Net earnings for nine months of 1895 aggregate $176,-104,827, a gain over 1895 of six-tenths of 1 per cent, following a gain in 1895 over 1894 of nearly 8 per cent. Largest percentages of gain in gross earnings are hown by the grangers and southern roads, the only decreases being by central western and coal roads. In net earnings the southwestern, southern and Pacific roads show largest gains, while the central western, eastern, coal and Total exports of wheat (flour included as wheat) from both coast of the United States and from Montreal this week amount to 3,937,233 bushels, against

Detectives' Lives In Danger

Williamson, W. Va., Nov. 21.—Detectives Clark and Bevin, who killed the Mounts, father and son, Wednesday, while attempting to arrest them, went to Pikeville to claim the reward for Anderson Mounts. Finding there warrants for their arrest, they surrendered to Deputy Sheriff Casebolt, and are still in his keeping. A message from Pikeville says the men are worried over the unfortunate affair, and fear violence from the relatives of the Mounts. They will be kept on the Kentucky side till the intense feeling aga.nst them dies out. Bevin and Clark claim justification, and public sentiment is with them.

PROF. HUGO'S THANKS

BY DAVID A. CURTIS.

[Copyright, 1896.]

It was a cry for help. Professor Hugo laid down his geological hammer and put the specimen he had just chipped off carefully away in his knapsack, and then straightened up, listening. He never did anything in a hurry.

Again the cry sounded. It was a girlish voice, and it sounded from down the mountain. He was half way up the side. "Help! Help! O 'ek!"

"I better go, n e." muttered the professor in his queer German speech, and then he raised his voice and shouted: "Fear not! I come!" One could not say he hurried even then,

Why do you not sell and to the every time I try to move I slip a little nearer the edge, and there is nothing to keep me from falling over if I slip any farther." 'That is right," said the professor, "and it is good for you that I hear. Lie still now, and I will soon up get you.' It was not so easy, however, as it looked and as he at first thought it was. On either side of her he could get within some 20 feet of where she was without venturing on the treacherous grass himself and so losing his own foothold. But, though he could have held out a stick or improvised a rope that she could reach across that distance, it would not do to pull her along the edge without some stay from the upper part of the slope, and that was fully

Maybe I thank him, too, that he kill me not. And you I thank that you take of mother good care. And maybe I take dinner that day with you."

It was several weeks, however, before Thanksgiving day came, and in the interval, as the hard New England winter came on, things went badly with the Bascoms. Ella developed a slight cough, that made her mother turn pale when she heard it. She had learned to know how easily consumption attacks young people in the rigorous climate of upper New England,

He could do nothing, however, but about sending the girl south for the winyet she dared not speak to Mr. Bascom wait till his son should come up with the ter. The means were lacking The crops neighbors, for whom he had sent. And were poor. One of the two pirs they had

He had saved them from a great sorrow, he had been a great care and a burden for a time, and then he had passed away to be only a memory.

It was therefore entirely a surprise when, a few days before Thanksgiving, John brought home a letter from the village postoffice addressed in a queer foreign handwriting to Miss Ella Bascom.

"It must be from the professor," she said, and after they had all agreed to this and had examined the envelope and the postmark and had wondered sufficiently about what he could have to say, as people do who do not often receive letters, she

Such news was too wonderful, and yet it was tantalizing. There was no end to the speculating, and it was later that night and written upon it. This, then, was than it ever had been before when the Bascoms went to bed.

The next day, however, brought a still greater surprise. Word came from the railway station, two miles away, that there were several large cases there for Mr. Bascom, expressage paid. The old gray horse was astonished enough at the speed at which he was rattled along, but his feelings were nothing to those of the family when the cases were brought home and

THOUGHTS SUGGESTED BY THE AN-NUAL HARVEST FESTIVAL.

BOSTON-Old Colony News Stand after Its Origin and Ancient Manner of Observance-Its Modern Significance-The Country Feast-A Tempting Banquet. The Perfect Form of Giving Thanks.

An annual harvest festival of Thanksgiving has been by no means peculiar to this country or even to modern ages. Indeed the Hebrews had their harvest festivals, the principal one being the autumn feast of ingathering (feast of the Tabernacles), a thanksgiving for the whole produce of the wine press, of the fruit orchards and the cornfields. Similarly, too, the Greeks and Romans had festival seasons in City." honor of Demeter, or Ceres, the goddess of agriculture. All these were sanctioned by religious rite, games and joyous indulgence in the pleasures of the table. So our Thanksgiving day has a noble descent in history, and the Puritans of Massachusetts not only showed their piety, but their scholarship, in some of the old sermons still extant. A discourse of the celebrated Dr. Cotton Mather on Thanksgiving is curious in its learning concerning the prototypes of the Puritan festival among the nations of the past. It shows how well the fathers knew they had linked themselves with a great historic observance.

its religious quality in the minds of the At the evening service the Vested choir will masses, who sacredly enjoy the Thanksgiving turkey, its connection with worship is always earnestly enjoined by state and federal proclamations. It is indeed the sole religious festival observed in the United States by virtue of civil authority. The annual practice in New England during colonial times was imitated after awhile at 7 P. M. will be "The Great Hereby the Dutch and English governors of after; what do we know about it." New York, and the continental congres proclaimed the festival annually during the great war struggle. It remained afterward, however, a purely state affair till, in 1863, President Lincoln began the practice of proclaiming an autumnal Thanksgiving annually.

In the earlier time Thanksgiving day was the most important of American fes tivals, for Christmas was looked on with more or less suspicion by the rigid Puritans. Aside from churchgoing, shooting with the rifle at turkeys was the most wide spread habit of the day. This is still practiced to some extent in the purely rural communities. Nowadays, however, the overshadowing feature of the holiday in the way of amusements is the prevalence of the great football and other games selected for that date. Our universities make right after the morning service. Y. P. C. it the occasion of their most brilliant ath- E. at 6.30 P. M. Preaching service at 7.30 letic contests. Out of the cities where the P. M. Notice our evening service is more important of these friendly battles changed half an hour later. Everybody is would naturally occur local games are arranged which perhaps evoke as much interest among the spectators. It is curious to observe that among all the strong and servile nations this tendency to connect national festivals with athletic contests has been all but universal. Among the Americans, Englishmen and Germans of

The religious exercises of Thanksgiving matters of national gratitude rather than those of individual thanks. So we expect the church addresses to be largely of a political character, dealing with topics of public morals. Our ministers naturally 441 53 avail themselves of this escape valve to diswell as some poor ones, have been thus shot from the battery of the pulpit. Not a few of the most powerful and eloquent addresses of Henry Ward Beecher, Rev. Dr. Storrs, Dr. Hall, Dr. E. H. Chapin and other preaching celebrities have owed livered by the Rev. Dr. Palmer of New Orleans on Thanksgiving day, 1860, is said to have aroused and crystallized secession sentiment scarcely less than Mirabeau's oratory did the revolutionary sentiment at the convocation of the French states general in 1789. So, while most of the Thanks-monstrous force and effect. But, after all is said, one must confess that the true modern significance of family feast day. It gathers the scattered branches together from far and wide to sacrifice at the altar of family love, where are enshrined the Lares and Penates of the old home. There is something of this feeling, too, at Christmas, but it chiefly touches the individuals of each family branch. Thanksgiving seeks the gather-219 30 ing of the clan and becomes in many case perhaps the most beautiful and delightful occasion of the year, full of the purest joy and sweetness, a veritable fountain of refreshment. The spectacle of three or four generations of a family assembled together from distant dwelling places under the ancient family rooftree is charged with the heart's truest poetry. The significance some and succulent dainties, but that it fills the soul brimful of love and sympathy, effervescing anew after long absence. This is the truest religious sacrifice of the day, and so the dinner table becomes perhaps the most consecrated shrine of all, though no blood of the grape is poured out in libation there. It is in the country that the finest joys of Thanksgiving are found. They go with turkey and pumpkin pie, not with terrapin and canvasback; with sparkling apple juice, not with champagne. The crisp, pure air, the association of rural life revived again with exhilarating freshness, the warming of family ties, the homely, appetizing dishes, into whose concocting the cook has poured the purest love and joy of the heart as well as fragrant spices and sweets, make up something which no banquet of Lucullus could equal. Many a worldworn spirit has found in such an occasion a new sense flaming out of the ashes of ennui and weariness, that, after all, life is well worth living. And so may it be

We have said nothing in this article about the giving of thanks, which the name of the day emphasizes. Well, perjoy and the new birth of all the best sympathies of one's nature are as perfect a form of thanksgiving to the great Creator of all as prayer and psalm singing within the named all else is but as "sounding brass and a tinkling cymbal." G. T. FERRIS.

Happy Thanksgiving.

The happiest Thanksgiving is that which retains the spirit of primitive good cheer, simplicity and good fellowship. Dinners of style are not consistent with the occasion. There used always to be snow at Thanksgiving and roaring fires in the old coming from the country or town

Castle Square Theatre.

The coming week at the Castle Square Theatre will take on somewhat of a gala extra matinee attending the annual Thanksgiving holiday, but the 600th operatic performance at this house, an event as unprecedented as it is conclusive of the enterprize and good judgment shown in the conduct of this theatre. General Director Jaxon has selected as the bill for the week a revival of the great double bill which created such a marked impression last season; "H. M.S. Pinafore" and "Cavalleria Rusticana." The two works with their sharply contrasted characteristics afford splendid opportunities for the display of the varied abilities of the members of the organization, and the distribution of the several roles will bring all of the leading singers of the company into the week's performances. The 600th performance falls on Friday evening and a pleasant surprise is being planned for the patrons on this occasion. To follow the double bill on Monday the 30th inst., "Trevatore" is announced for one week only.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube getslindamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

AIRSHIP IS A REALITY.

California Inventor Has One That Surprised the Natives.

Reputable Attorney Vouches For the Performance.

Be Attempted.

San Francisco, Nov. 23 .- The Chron adding: "Wait until Christmas. By icle prints a story which would indicate that the airship, in practicable form, is an established fact. About 1 o'clock last Monday morning, the inhabitants of Sacramento who were astir at tha hour, claim to have seen an airship passing rapidly over the city. Some merely said they saw a light, while others went so far as to say they saw a eigar-shaped flying machine, and heard human voices from it. The residents of Oakland also say they saw the same light. The story of the mysterious airship has been told all over the state, and has created considerable amusement, as it was generally believed to be a hoax. The Chronicle prints an interview with George D. Collins, a reputable lawyer of this city, who says that the airship is a reality. Attorney Collins says "It is perfectly true that there is at last a successful airship in existence. I am acting as attorney for the inventor. He is a very wealthy man, who has beer studying the subject of flying machines for 15 years, and who came here seve years ago from the state of Maine, in order to be able to perfect his ideas away from the eyes of other inventors. During the last five years he has spent at least $100,000 on his work. He has not yet secured his patent, but his application is now in Washington. "I saw the machine one night las week, at the inventor's invitation. It is BOOK CASES, $5.50 TO $75.00 made of metal, is about 150 feet long and is built to carry 15 persons.

"It is built on the aeroplane system and has two canvas wings, 18 feet wide and a rudder, shaped like a bird's tail I saw the thing ascend about 90 fee under perfect control.

"The reports from Sacramento th other night were true. It was my client's airship that the people saw. It started from Oroville, in Butte county, and flew 60 miles in a straight line, directly over over the capital, my friend came on distance of another 70 miles, and landed at a spot on the Oakland side of the bay, where the machine now lies guarded by three men.

"In another six days several defects will be done away with, and it is ther his intention to fly over San Francisco The inventor has forsaken the ideas of Maxim and Langley entirely in building the machine, and has constructed it on an absolutely new theory." In spite of Mr. Collins' statement, there are many skeptics who say flatly they do not believe his story. It is almest incredible that an airship 150 feet long could be secreted in any building near San Francisco without the fact Pea Coal being made public. The mysterious lights seen over Sacramento, if any were Pea Coal seen, are thought to have been meteors.

Investigation shows that he took fully $1500 in cash, and probably more. A young woman named Fannie Carter, with whom he became infatuated, ccompanied him in his flight, and was with him when arrested. Gorman has resided in New Haven about a year, oming from Brooklyn. His salary was $18 a week, but he handled large sums of money and used it lavishly. The case against Gorman is being pressed by a security company that furnished bonds.

Prince Luigi Banquetted. Boston, Nov. 24.-Prince Luigi of Savoy, of the Italian cruiser Cristoforo Colombo, was tendered a banquet last night at Hotel Vendome by a number of the Italian societies. About 60 sat about the festive board, and the other guests besides the prince were Mayor Quincy, Colonel Henry A. Thomas, the governor's private secretary, Captain Bortelini, the commander of the Cristoforo Colombo, Professor Charles Eliot Norton of Harvard university, Commodore Miller of the navy yard and Adjutant General Dalton. Previous to the banquet, over 1000 of the Italians in the North End paraded through the principal streets, and celebrated in "Little Italy" while the banquet was in progress.

He Is Mentally Unbalanced. Alfred, Me., Nov. 24.—Peter Smith, who is in jail here for larceny, is believed, from the present investigation, to be James Blake, who is wanted in West Brownfield, Me., and Eaton, N. H., in connection with thefts of furniture. Smith, or Blake, was arrested on the charge of stealing produce of a Dayton farmer, and the two horses which were n his possession belong in Brownfield and Limerick. Extensive thefts of silverware, powder, produce, tools, etc., have been made at farmhouses, and the prisoner appears to know all about them. believed to be mentally unbalanced.

The Medina Eloper. Boston, Nov. 24 .- A dispatch to The Traveler from Lynn says: A gentleman, who refused to give his name for various reasons, called upon Sergeant George Munroe at police headquarters at noon yesterday and emphatically deeloped from Medina, N. Editor Quincy Daily Ledger: Kindly allow me a line in answer to certain criticisms published in your paper

To accommodate a traffic nearly doubled by the change of time on the New Haven railroad, I allowed the street railroad company to use part of a street temporarily as a turn-out, on the promise of the president to remove the turn-out when requested to do so. The situation seemed to me to justify the existence of a condition which, though not authorized, was not a breach of If a stranger builds a house on your land for your use, you may well allow it to remain there so long as it brings a benefit, though it may be there without complete legal authorization. That was my view of the facts. The Council took a different view. Accordingly I revoked the permission given to the railroad, but as a matter of course allowed the rails to remain down while the company brought a regular pe-

General Arolas, accompanied by his staff and an escort of cavalry, started soon afterward for Mangas, and at 8:30 news was received at Artemisa that the cruiser Le Gazpi had arrived at Mariel, the port at the northern extremity of the military line across the province of Pinar Del Rio, with instructions to her commander to place his vessel at the disposal of the captain general.

At 9 o'clock, General Weyler entered Artemisa with the columns commanded by Generals Aguilar and Arolas. It was seen that the captain general was conuniform, with a panama hat, and rode a enabled the Spanish commander to receive there the staff officers and others by the recent storm. and transmit orders in various direc tions. There he also transacted considerable business with his chief of staff. The captain general was received on his arrival at Artemisa by the town authorities, crowds of people and bands of music. Trumpet salutes were sounded and the bells were rung in his honor. After visiting the military hospitals and breakfasting, the captain general started immediately for Mariel.

When questioned directly as to the recommendations in his 'eport, General Lee said positively that he must decline to discuss it in any shape or form, as his report was in the hands of Mr. Olney, who must make it public if it were to become public. General Lee said that he had not made up his mind as to exactly when he would re-

Weyler Was Scared. New York, Nov. 24.-A Jacksonville, Fla., dispatch says: A cipher cablegram from Habana last night to a Cuban leader here says that General Weyler has been forced to return to Habana, and that the city is in great confusion. Weyler gives no excuse, it is said, except that it is too hot and unhealthy to do any fighting. It is openly asserted in Habana that Weyler became frightened because Maceo had set a price upon his head or his capture.

Weyler's scouts informed him that Maceo might make an attempt on Habana, and the Spanish general retreated in hot haste to the safety of his palace. It is also stated in the cablegram that Weyler's recall is assured now, as the Spanish government is incensed against him for his dilatory tactics.

KNOWS HOW TO VOTE.

A Word About the Unfair Articles Published.

Mr. Hammond's Legislative Record Will Stand Investigation.

His Votes on the Bell Telephone Stock and Free Transfers.

A few days ago I observed in one of your contemporaries an article relating to the present municipal campaign reflecting upon the record of Mr. Charles L. Hammond while he was a Representative to the Legis-

Believing then as I do now that much has been said of Mr. Hammond of late, which upon investigation would prove to be unfounded, I took upon myself the trouble of ascertaining the facts in regard to the article above mentioned.

For the purpose of showing how much weight may be given to this article let me mention a few facts relative only to two of the more important items upon which this "record" is criticised.

Mr Hammond is recorded as voting in favor of the increase of the capital stock of the Bell Telephone Company. This is true, but did it ever occur to you, Mr. Editor, that the Chairman of the Committee that had this matter in charge and reported that it ought to pass, that the leading advocate of the passage of this measure, that the one who worked in the 1.45 Senate so strenuously for its passage and 1.00 was so much chagrined at its veto, was of Quincy? Yet Mr. Merrill is an honor-

THAT CRAYON.

Mr. Smithers opened the door himself, and every one in the house could laughed a little hysterically, and the hired girl, as she stooped down to baste the nicely browning reast, grinned He is especially friendly with the Prince broadly into the hot air of the oven. But the two guests - Mr. Smithers mother and spinster aunt from Philadelphia - could hardly be expected to see anything humorous in the profanity which assailed their ears. Mrs. Smithers, the younger, didn't see quite how John could talk that way when his Quaker mother was around, but she realized somewhat the strength of his provocation, and when the old lady ran distractedly to the door she put her arm around her reassuringly and said:

"It's a man who wants to enlarge photographs, mother, and John has just had such an experience!"

"But-but-how can thee excuse such language? To think that a son of mine should swear and abuse a fellow mortal in that way!"

There was the sound of a little scuffle in the hall, the crashing of glass, and then the sudden slamming of the outer door, when the host, flushed, but trirmphant, appeared in the sitting room and confronted two weeping women, and one whose expression told him more plainly than words that, while a detachment of his household might consider him an unregenerate sinner, one member regarded him as a simple chump.

"The roast in the oven isn't quite ready, John," said Mrs. Smithers significantly. "So perhaps you had better explain to mother and Aunt Laviny your somewhat unusual language."

"By George, mother," exclaimed Mr. Smithers, suddenly recalled to his Viny too. Well, I guess I'm in disgrace. I'll have to explain, as Emma says.

"Mother, ever since we've been married," said the little woman, "I've begged and entreated John to have his picture taken. 'What if he should be taken away?' I used to think. Rather Misleading.

Signs are often misleading. This is due, it has been said by somebody, to the supposed fact that ultimately all bad spellers get into the business of sign painting. There is a restaurant on one of the little known east side streets, says the New York Times, that makes a specialty of serving oysters and fish. Above the door is a sign that reads, "All odors executed with dispatch."

It has often been said that any man with a good idea and a little money can come to New York and build up a successful business in a very short time. Legal Question Raised in Election Proceedings at Dover, Delaware.

Dover, Del., Nov. 25.—A question was raised here yesterday by counsel for Democrats in the mandamus proceedings to compel the Kent county canvassing board to reconvene and count the vote of the recent election, upon which may depend not only the titles of those at present holding office, but also the legality of any act of any official of the state outside of the city of Wilmington, elected since 1891. Looking back to the second of these events, a flood of memories crowd the brain, suggested by the sentiment to which I am to speak tonight.

A distinguished writer, summing up the situation at that time, says: "The north had spoken and unbidden there came into the minds of every northern man the question, what will be the answer of the south?" We had not very long to wait for that answer, and thousands today, remember, the side of the capacity of adjutant generals to the commander of the generals's expedition, made a speech in the nature of a report of the trip, and said that over expedition, made a speech in the nature of a report of the trip, and said that over support of the trip, and said that over the trip, and said that over of a report of the trip, and said that over of a report of the trip, and said that over of a report of the trip, and said that over the vertacle, and through 13 states.

Hon. George A. Marden closed the speech-making by characteristic address, in which he said he was proud of the generals whom he accompanied on the tour through the west.

Originally an eightpenny nail, for example, was called an "eight pound" nail, because 1,000 nails of that particular size weighed eight pounds. Carpenters were not particular about pronouncing the names very clearly, and in a short time an eight pound nail was known as an "eight pun" nail. From that it became changed to "eight pen," and then somebody, thinking "pen" was a contraction for "penny," changed ALEX. E. NASH, the Caterer for six times. it to "eightpenny," and that's the way it has remained to this day. It is some what curious that a pound should have worked its way down to a penny and that when we say penny we really mean pound.

> Two Children In Disgrace. There were two children-Jim and Sue-Who much desired the world to view. But, oh, they fell in great disgrace And thought the world a horrid place.

For no one saw them start away, As it was mother's washing day. They did not know which way to go, And soon their joy was turned to woe.

The world was great, the world was wide, And Jimmy sat him down and cried, But it was even worse for Sue, Who in the mud had lost one shoe.

And mother, standing at the gate, Was wondering what had made them late, When two small creatures she espied Who walked and limped and sadly cried. She straightway led them to the tub And left them there to wash and scrub. Though Jimmy howled, "I want my tea,"

Sue said, "We first quite clean must be."

Puritana.

Mr. R. S. Syms, who lives at 42 Boylston Street, Springfield, Mass., is the proprietor of the barber shop at 174 Main Street. He is widely acquainted in Springfield. as he has made it his home for several years. He fought in a New Hampshire regiment, until discharged on account of sickness, and since the war has frequently changed his line of business as well as his residence, in a vain search for health. He has made the following statement:

"When I came out of the army I was a wreck from fever and ague and rheumatism, so that I only weighed ninety pounds. At that time I lived in New Hampshire, and was successfully treated by Dr. Dixi Crosby's nephew. But during all these years I never regained rugged health, and some months ago was in a very serious condition. My liver was bloated so that it protruded from my side, and my eyes were affected so that a blur would come over my sight. I had also severe headaches, and indigestion, with gulping up of wind from my stoma solid lump. I had at this time been laid up with the grip for two weeks.

"As I had known the Crosby doctors, I decided to take Puritana, and my wife, ally in use that most servants thoroughwho was troubled with indigestion, took it with me. The result has been all that in fact, better than I have been in five years. The swelling of my liver has entirely gone; I have no more indigestion or headaches, and my sight is very much improved. The rheumatism which laid me up all last winter has left me since 1 began taking Puritana. I have also recommended Puritana to others, who report great benefit from its use, and I shall continue to recommend it because I know from these tests how much good it will do. Puritana has saved me from more suffering than I can tell.

THE HOUSEHOLD.

A Frank Review of the Problem of 50. cial Calls-Taking Up Matting. His Food Lay Heavy on His Something New In Swiss.

The morning hours of fine days at this season invite to informal calls. Friends who are intimate enough to do He Knew Dr. Crosby and Tried to take advantage of a bright morning to call upon each other instead of deferring this pleasure until the conventional calling hours have struck, although this is always done in a semiapologetic manner. "I thought I should be more likely to find you at home if I came in the morning," or "I hope you don't mind my calling in the morning," "I hope you were not going out when I came," or "You must not let me keep you in if you are going out," are a few of the phrases current even between friends when calls before 3 o'clock p. m. are made.

A reasonable excuse for calling thus early in the day is that the conventional afternoon calling hours have now become practically but occasions for leaving eards, and no one expects to find those called upon at home, occupations and engagements being accountable for this, and therefore to receive the rejoinder "Not at home" is always a foregone conclusion. In the morning hours the chances are more in favor of the contrary being the case, although "Not at home" is also occasionally the reply received even in the morning hours and given in all sincerity. Again, the quesach. All the food I ate, no matter what conventional one, and "Is Mrs. A. in, tion put varies in some degree from the and will you ask her if she will see me for a few minutes?" is frequently the somewhat diffident inquiry.

ly understand its purport-i. e., the we could ask. I am fifty per cent. better; her friends and does not wish to see mistress of the house is not visible to them at that particular hour. Not infrequently this answer of "not at home" leads to remarks at future meetings of an embarrassing nature. "I called late on Monday, hoping to see you. I suppose you had gone out," or, "I was so sorry not to find you at home on Tuesday morning. I came early, as I particularly wanted to tell you," etc. Thus the embarrassed one is driven into a corner and must either confess or remain silent. Why does not society allow of a little frankness in this matter? Why is it supposed to be in such bad taste to say, "Mrs. A. cannot see any one this morn-> very much engaged." Callers would not consider this infor- from them. He says: mation to be a snub, and servants would infinitely prefer to tell the truth and to avoid the cross questioning which sometimes follows, such as "When do you expect your mistress back? Do you expect her in to luncheon? Is it any use my waiting until she returns?" Or perhaps another member of the family is inquired for, and this is additionally perplexing to a servant who is desirous of carrying out a mistress' orders.

In the afternoon hours many servants are allowed to say, "Mrs. A. is at home, but she is just going out," and this is satisfactory intelligence. Cards are handed in without further parley. The objection to saying "cannot see any on this morning" or "this afternoon" is supposed to lead to the inference that illness is the cause thereof. The objection to saying "very much engaged" is a strong but unreasonable one, considering how much it explains and what a common sense view of the matter it would be to all concerned.

Taking Up Matting.

Some people entertain the pleasing recent election?' delusion that it is unnecessary to take up matting except at very long intervals, perhaps not till worn out. DISTINGUISHED METHODIST DIVINE ACCUSED OF HERESY.

Rev. Dr. John B. Robins Writes a Book That thodoxy Is Called In Question-Heresy Trial In Prospect.

Dr. John B. Robins of Atlanta is the ac- the feast. cused. He is the pastor of one of the years. In Atlanta he is immensely popular, and the people who are crying "Heretic!" on his trail most enthusiastically are men who for the most part are not acquainted with him personally. Dr. Robins, besides being a popular preacher, is a deep theologian and a vigorous writer on theological subjects. Dr. Robins has written a book, though, which has raised a storm of opposition, and, although he has been indorsed by a few leading ministers, there are a number of other prominent Metinodists who are actively denouncing him in both the religious and secular press. It is likely that this opposition will develop into specific charges at the next conference.

The book about which so much talk is being made is one entitled "The Family; A Necessity of Civilization." The lay reader, unskilled in theological technicalities, might read this book and be vastly surprised to hear it denounced as heretical, unsound and dangerons. Dr. Robins says it was not meant as a theological treatise, the main idea being to show that the family was a necessary foundation to civilized life.

But in pursuing the thread of his discourse Dr. Robins made some side excursions into orthodoxy and shattered a few time stained theories which theologians of the older school have long held sacred. It was these digressions which have made all the trouble for the anthor of the book. Some leading minto be converted, and his belief in original leasing the lever strikes the tack a blow, a dangerous doctrine.

"If there is anything in our doctrines of inherited depravity as set forth in the seventh article of religion on 'original sin' and the baptismal service for infants, then this book contains the rankest heresy and is full of strange and erroneous doctrines.

"Feeble and not farreaching though my voice be, I protest against such things and warn the Methodist church against books and public utterances of preachers which set forth views of 'original sin' and regeneration as set forth in the book just mentioned. I protest further against Methodist preachers, under solemn vows of ordination 'to banish and drive away all erroneous and strange doctrines,' who publicly or privately disseminate doctrines contrary to our articles of religion, whether in the pulpit or in books."

Dr. Robins is reserving most of his ammunition until all the criticisms are in, but he has already sent out a brief reply to some of his critics. He asserts in the first place that he believes the articles of religion of the Methodist church and would not change a single one of them. He also declares that his proper certificate of vaccination which book cannot be tried by any other rule shall be kept on file in the school which than by that given by John Wesley than by that given by John Wesley break, fry on a well buttered griddle himself-to wit, "the Scriptures and until brown on each side. Sprinkle with common sense."

Dr. Robins' friends have also come forward and given a hearty indorsement. Among them is Dr. I. S. Hopkins, who says, "I know nothing of the merits of the discussion, but I would rather take John Robins' opinion on theology than that of any of his critics."

Dr. Robins was born in Putnam counornamental, trees should not forget that ty, Ga., Sept. 21, 1851. Modern Serving of the Thanksgiving Feast - A Repeating Tack Hammer-Making Spanish Hash.

In the times of our forefathers Thanksgiving was literally a day of giving Stirs Up the Critics, and Now His Or- thanks for mercies past received and a day of real fasting. Now it has become a day of family reunions and feasting, and the dinner is the feature of the day, There is an exciting heresy hunt on remarks Good Housekeeping in preface in the Methodist Church South. Rev. to suggestions for the proper serving of

Some of the dishes can be made the leading churches of that city and has day before Thanksgiving and thus save occupied a pulpit there for a number of much time. The table should be set early in the day with spotless linen, shining silver and clear glass. A centerpiece of fine embroidery and a bowl of gay colored chrysanthemums add to the attractiveness of the table. Individual taste has a wide range in table decoration. Each hostess will decide for herself what to use in the way of dinner cards, bonbons, bread and butter plates and doilies.

If the dinner is served late in the day, a pretty effect is made on the table by the use of two silver candelabra with wax candles the color of the flowers used for decoration, or two little glass lamps with colored shades can be placed at each side of the centerpiece.

Nothing can be handsomer on a dinner table than a linen cloth of fine texture and graceful pattern. It is wise to avoid too much decoration and to approach simplicity, as the main object of dining is to satisfy the appetite and not to tire the eye with elaborate adornment. After the table is arranged the dishes needed for serving the dinner should be placed on a side table or in the kitchen pantry. Everything should be at hand so that the waitress can give her attention to the table service.

There are certain time honored staples which are expected to form a part of every Thanksgiving dinner, such as turkey, cranberry sauce and pies. Years ago it was the custom to load the table with dainties of every description. The European fashion of serving a dinner in courses has come more and more into favor and has much to recommend it. The eve is not bewildered by such an array of food, there is more space on the table, and a waitress can serve the dinner in courses more easily.

The following menu preserves the main features of the old fashioned dinner and adds some modern notions: Oysters on the half shell.

Undoubtedly the best manner of cooking parsnips is as fritters, according to Mrs. Henderson: Scrape and, if large, cut them. Put into well salted boiling water and boil till tender. Then mash them, adding to 4 or 5 parsnips a heaping teaspoonful of flour, 1 or 2 eggs well beaten; pepper and salt to taste. Form the mixture into small cakes three-quarters of an inch thick and fry on both sides to a delicate brown, with a little hot butter. Serve hot.

Spanish Hash. There is authority for the statement that American men have never failed to appreciate the chafing dish product known as Spanish hash. It is simply chopped raw beef and pork first, then chopped red pepper, raisins, olives, almonds, onions and enough egg to bind all together.

Make French toast of your dry bread. To a well beaten egg add a little salt and half a pint of sweet milk. Dip each slice in this. When soft, but not so as to sugar and serve.

Breakfast Gems. A cup of sweet milk, 11/2 cups flour, an egg, a teaspoon salt, a teaspoon baking powder, beaten together five minutes.

Bake in hot gem pans in a hot oven about 15 minutes.

Two Opinions of the Attack of Mayor Adams on the Electric Light Company.

In its issue of July 14 the Advertiser said: From present indications the hearing before the Electric Light and Gas Commissioners Friday morning in the Council chamber is like to prove a grand fizzle. * * * The whole transaction has been a most unbusinesslike exhibition. * * * We condemn the "peanut;" methods resorted to Mr. Adams' Party Stand Will Not in this fight against the existing company and regret the Mayor should be led in his actions by those who bode him no good."

IT WAS A FIZZLE.

Editorially on July 17, 1896, the Adver- | Editorially on Nov. 24, 1896, the Advertiser said:

"There was to have been a hearing today before the Gas and Electric Light Commissioners, at City Hall upon the complaint of the Mayor as to the quality and price of the light furnished to the city by the Quincy Electric Light and Power Company, but something happened that prevented the hearing taking place. On Wednesday morning Mayor Adams became convinced that the city had no case to present and so he appeared before the Commissioners with whom he had lodged the complaint and withdrew the petition.

"What can the people infer from this kind of fickleness. If the city's case was too weak to allow the hearing to go on, it was certainly not strong enough to commence. What sort of an opinion can the commissioners have of the city, when it first says that it has a case against our local company and within two weeks time acknowledges that upon investigation we find that there is no ground for complaint?

"We are reminded just now of the fight made to secure the right to construct an independent plant, before the Legislature last spring, when Mayor Adams and his close friend, Councilman Bryant, president of the City Council, appeared before the Legislative committee at the State House and presented merely rumors. These gentlemen appeared in behalf of the city, and they shoul i have fortified themselves interest of the citizens and faithfully perwith facts of the strongest kind. The forming the duties of his office ?" Electric Light company were forced to an expense of several hundred dollars to defend themselves and it proved a needless

"In the year 1895 the city council voted to attack this same company and Mayor Hodges, as a thorough business man, returned the order to the council immediately, stating that he had no grounds to make a fight upon as there was already legislation that covered the point in question. It will be remembered that sometime after the limit for admitting new legislation had expired an order was offered by Councilman Bryant to censure Mayor Hodges for ignoring the act of the City Council. Mayor Hodges communication was again read and the vote upon censuring was taken up and the councilman who presented the order was the only one who voted in favor of its adoption.

"In the first case Mayor Hodges came out of the attempted fight with much credit to himself, while Mayor Adams must suffer the humiliation of being defeated without offering any sign of battle. It is to be regretted that this is the situation. It is not to be wondered at that the Electric Light Company are not satisfied to renew their contract when the city puts them to a needless expense. The present fizzle will no doubt prevent any further trouble for this year at least."

The Mayor's Mistakes and His Weaknesses This Year.

Editors. of the Daily Ledger:

The peculiar nature of the arguments papers of this city relative to the municipal campaign shows the extremity to which the opponents of Mr. Hammond will go to create prejudices against him. This certainly signifies that the indications of Mr. Hammond's election are so steadily staring his opponents in the face, that no stone is to be be left upturned to accomplish Mr. Adams' election.

Last year we heard of a gentleman of wealth and social standing who was a director in nineteen great corporations, whose financial training began when he left college, whose ability to financier was unparalleled, and if he were elected there could be no mistake. Mistake? Was there not just a small one? Only $12,000 in getting at a small computation in the tax rate. A mistake that made Quincy the laughing stock of the other mu-

THE WICKEDEST BOY.

HE IS RUBY GOLDSTEIN, TEN YEARS OF AGE.

But In Crime He Is Very Old-His Nature to Lie and Thieve-Some of His Misdeeds-He Is a Cripple-Cannot Be Re-

The wickedest boy in America lives in Albany. No frontier desperado ever was imbued with such a spirit of evil lawlessness as Ruby Goldstein. He is only 10 years old, and yet his parents have far less authority and control over him than they would exert over a young hyena. Obedience is not in this youth's lexicon.

The police of several cities fear him more than they do any ruffian in the state. He is the incarnation of willfulness and rebellion. He has the antithesis of every quality that a boy of the age should have.

Ruby will lie in the most brazen fashion. It is seldom he tells the truth. He will steal anything and everything he can. He will destroy property with impish glee and exultation. It is his innate nature to steal and destroy. Altogether he is a marvel of degeneration. It is a pity Max Nordau did not know of him.

Ruby is a cripple. He goes about with the aid of a crutch. But with his crutch he can do as much damage and can cover as much ground as several ordinary boys each with a sound and strong pair of legs. Three years ago Ruby started to run away from home by jumping on a freight train. He fell, and his Confederate service. He took a promi- right leg was cut off. Most people nent part in the campaign of northern thought the injury would be fatal, but Virginia. Frequently he hurled things at people simply to frighten or startle Ruby's father is a tailor. In the early days of his career Ruby would go to his father's shop at night and cut rolls of cloth into strips, mutilate newly made clothing and pour glue on the ironing board. Occasionally he would throw a flatiron through the window.

Last summer Ruby was loitering about the terminus of the electric railroad. He saw an empty car in the street. Into the car Ruby hobbled and gave the lever in front a twist. Down the street the car started at full speed.

An employee saw the danger and gave chase to the stolen motor. The man ran fast, but the car went faster. more slowly. Ruby was handed over to the police, but they did not get him to the station house without a struggle. Ruby punched and jabbed the policemen with his crutch viciously.

REVERSES OF WEYLER

Believed to Be Far More Disastrous Than First Supposed.

All Reports From the Seat of War Indicate This.

City of Puerto Principe Said to Have Been Taken by the Insurgents.

Habana, Nov. 27.-The campaign of Weyler against Maceo seems to have been even a greater failure than was first supposed.

When he returned the feeling was that he must have been badly worsted, and this feeling has been growing ever since "Official" reports, of course, deny all this, but the news which continually keeps filtering in from the seat of war indicates that the success of Maceo was all that he could desire. The first reports were that some 1700 wounded men had been sent to Habana the millinery store of Mrs. Kate Sim-Maceo in the Rubi hills, and subsequent events would seem to show that this number was not overestimated.

The last reports are that Weyler divided his forces into three columns, with the idea of approaching Maceo on three sides. The largest division of 20,000 he commanded himself. As on previous oc casions, the columns did not seem to operate in harmony, and that of Genera Echague, numbering 5000, arrived a con siderable time ahead of the others.

Maceo, it appears, was fully posted as to the movements of the approaching columns, and as soon as Echague appeared he opened a destructive fire upon him. The battle lasted from early morning till about 2:30 in the afternoon, and finally the Spanish column was routed with great loss. General Echague himself was among the wounded. The news of the defeat reached Weyler who was making a detour to come or Maceo from the rear, and it only served to enrage him the more. Sending re-enforcements to Echague's command, he tried to hasten up the movements of the three columns, and once more they attempted to close in on Maceo. But Maceo, for reasons best known to himself, did not want to be closed in. He quietly retreated on the side which was not guarded, and when the Spaniards thought they had him captured they found only an abandoned position Maceo had retreated west to another mountain fastness, and Weyler thought it useless to follow him. The excitement in Habana has been very marked during the past two days. There is clearly much discontent and disappointment among the royalists, but they endeavor to suppress their feelings, for Weyler is now in a very ugly mood. It is said that he feels his failure very keenly, and that he may be expected to be more ferocious than ever in his dealings with Cubans and non-combatants. To this feeling of disappointment is of us chiefly attributed his latest proclamation just issued, which commands the corn growers in three of the provinces to at once take their corn into the nearest are the results of a few doses of our city or town. A Few Questions for the Voters of Quincy to Answer.

Editors of the Ledger:

In this election the citizens of Quincy have a question of infinite importance to decide, and it is incumbent upon all to consider with greatest care whether it is wise to make a change in our city government, for a change of Mayor means this year a complete change in every depart-Subscription Price, $6.00 per Year. ment of the city, as well as in the whole

> We have today city officials chosen from the best available ability in both political parties, men eminently qualified by previous training as well as experience in their present positions to conduct the affairs of our city, and in many essential positions men who are by general consent known to be the most efficient public servants our city has ever been able to procure in our eight years of existence.

These men have not only done the city work with skill, courtesy, and ability, but honestly, honorably and in a spirit in which the interests of the city were held superior to party expediency, and no dollar was spent under the impulse of political reward in a way which did not bring fullest value to us.

Shall we vote to have these men removed; to rebuke that spirit of fairness to all men and all parties; to discourage the putting of the welfare of our city above that of party?

We know it possesses merit more generous disposition of plums to the because it cures, not once or twice or a faithful, tried and true Democrats? Did hundred times, but in thousands and not Mr. Adams, speech of acceptance intithousands of cases. We know it cures, absolutely, permanently, when all others mate as much? Certainly, if reports can fail to do any good whatever. We repeat | be believed, there will be a decided change in the department heads and there will be a general decapitating of the few Republicans now holding office.

The campaign of Mr. Hammond bas been free from abuse and mud throwing, and none but straightforward means have been used to elect him. Neither has it been found necessary to appeal to the stomach to obtain votes, as was done by the Democrats last year, and is again to be used this year. The voters may eat Mr. Adams' turkey, but they will vote for Mr. Hammond and give him a rousing majority next Tuesday. INDEPENDENT.

His Food Lay Heavy on His Stomach.

He Knew Dr. Crosby and Tried Puritana.

Mr. R. S. Syms, who lives at 42 Boylston Street, Springfield, Mass., is the proprietor of the barber shop at 174 Main Street. as he has made it his home for several years. He fought in a New Hampshire regiment, until discharged on account of sickness, and since the war has frequently changed his line of business as well as his residence, in a vain search for health. He has made the following statement:

"When I came out of the army I was a wreck from fever and ague and rheumatism, so that I only weighed ninety pounds. At that time I lived in New Hampshire, and was successfully treated by Dr. Dixi Crosby's nephew. But durrugged health, and some months ago was in a very serious condition. My liver was bloated so that it protruded from my side, and my eyes were affected so that a blur would come over my sight. I had also severe headaches, and indigestion, with gulping up of wind from my stomach. All the food I ate, no matter what It was, seemed to lie upon my stomach in a solid lump. PEOPLE WILL RISE stir was created among the gold standard Democrats here by the reading of a letter from Hon. D. R. Francis, secretary of the interior, at a banquet held in celebration of the defeat of free silver. After referring to the result of the election, and declaring that, in his opinion, it settled the financial question until the existing standard shall have been given fair and thorough trial, Secretary Francis said:

"While I agree with the advocates of sound money in the fight recently made He is widely acquainted in Springfield, there are many principles advocated by some of those who have been advocates of that cause to which I cannot subscribe. If some legislation is not enacted to check the growing influence of wealth, and circumscribe the powers of trusts and monopolies, there will be an uprising of the people before the century closes which will endanger our institutions.'

Much of the report is devoted to a detail d exhibit of the work accomplished and now under way on the coast defenses as crdered in 1895. On July 1, 1893, of our modern defense but one high power gun was mounted. By July 1 next we will have in position 70 high-power breechloading guns and 95 breech-loading mortars of modern design, and by the following July, on completion of work alguns and 153 mortars.

The defenses now under consideration are distributed among the ports of Portland, Me., Portsmouth, N. H., Bostor Narragansett bay, eastern entrance to Long Island sound, eastern entrance to ern entrance to New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, Hampton Roads, Wilmington, Charleston, Savanpah, Key West, Pensacola, Mobile, New Francisco, the mouth of the Columbia of the Jorks House. The lodgers had river and Puget sound. All of the emplacements have been located with a view to carrying out the project of the Endicott board of fortifications, organized under the act of congress on March

This project requires 481 high-powe guns, so located as to throw, wherever eracticable, the exterior line of defense at a minimum of eight to 10 miles from dress to Governor McIntyre and to the the place to be defended. To protect the mine fields and to prevent their destruction by counter-mining or other means, the project requires 361 rapid-fire guns. To cover the entire system and prevent an enemy's fleet from occupying an advanas to make it impossible for a hostile vessel to anchor or remain long in one posi tion within a radius of five or six miles of the defensive position. For this purpose 1048 mortars are needed. To accomplish these objects a few of the highpower guns, where the nature of the site affords sufficient protection from hos tile fire, are to be mounted in barbette batteries on non-disappearing carriages

The total amount appropriated for coast defenses, including cost of sites, fortifications and armament since the adoption of the present scheme, is $26,-

The act further authorizes the secretary of war to enter into contracts "for material and work for construction of fortifications to an additional sum in the aggregate not to exceed $2,500,600." Under this authority proposals have been invited for the construction, under contract, of the following emplacements: Seven emplacements for 12-inch guns; 19 emplacements for 10-inch guns; 15 emplacements for 8-inch guns; four emplacements for 5-inch rap 1-fire guns; 33 emplacements for 12-inch mortars. Zeal For Colonial Expansion

Paris, Nov. 27.-The question of the formation of a colonial army for France is before the army commission. General Billot, the minister of war, appeared before the commission, and in his examination advocated an improvement of the navy, which, he said, is the only real defense for France's colonies. Admiral Bernard, the minister of marine, supported General Billot's views. The question was discussed with a keenness indicating a widespread zeal for colonial

Being a young man who liked to talk of himself, it took him some days to find out that the young lady did not listen when he held forth. country of tenderness into love.

> With Beauchamp it was presently a case of "How happy could I be with either!" as it occurred to him to make the most of his opportunities. There was a keenness about young Hoskins' sister and a fierce bit of temper which was peculiarly piquant, but there were few days, hours even, in which he did not think of the way Cissy's brown lashes lay on her cheeks and her slow blush, which faded away as it came.

So a strong story sprang up.

On the whole, Cissy quietly led. There were several things which made the story grow and develop in different Beauchamp discovered that young Hoskins also admired the coloring in Miss Cissy's face.

Young Hoskins' sister suspected that her rival was gaining ground. Young Hoskins began to call Beauchamp "the fellow." Miss Cissy cultivated a lisp of her childhood, which made her adorable. So the story came to man's estate.

It was young Hoskins who did himself an injustice and made a black spot on the story. His sister listened with burning cheeks. It was an unhallowed treaty, but they both subscribed to it. Beauchamp's character was to be mildly slandered and a few trifling stories set afloat to Miss Cissy. Commissioner Knowlton

Been Administered.

Did Mayor Adams Make a Mistake in His Appointment 2

Editors of the Daily Ledger:

how Mr. Adams was criticised for going out of town for a Commissioner of Public Works although the City Charter express provided that it might be done.

Has it proved a mistake in judgment of the Mayor, or is it not now universally admitted by those competent to judge, that Mr. Knowlion's selection or appointment was the best that could have been made?

If you don't know, yourself, ask any person whose business or profession has required him to travel our streets and be about the city; ask any laborer or employes of the city irrespective of party, in whose judgment you have confidence, and see if it is not a fact that Mr. Knowlton has been an unqualified success; introducing new methods and system into his department, thereby saving the city the best possible manner with the means

Mr. Knowlton has taken hold of his work like one who knew his business. By the introduction of steam drills in getting out broken stone for the roads, he has reduced the cost of quarrying such material cities of the state. By this economy he has been enabled to get out four thousand

The problem of properly draining City Square at a small cost was not successfully solved until Mr. Knowlton took hold of the matter. He utilized the unused and abandoned water pipe which connected the square with the old steam pump in the hollow, connected the same with the brook and catch-basin in front of City Hall, regraded the street to a better surface, and been such a source of annoyance to pedesrians having occasion to use the crossings

Copeland street near Furnace brook was raised and graded so as to carry the water hole which had given a great deal of trouble in that neighborhood.

Cross street was graded and drained satisfactorily, and the problem of draining many other streets of the city has been successfully solved by Mr. Knowlton during this, his first year, as Commissioner, In the construction of Adams street, h has shown a thorough knowledge of the art of road building. This street has been Telford Macadamized at a cost of 61 cents per square yard, which is below the cost for doing like work in other cities and less than could have been done by any contractor.

The work done on Newbury avenue cutting down the hill and filling in Teal pond, needs only to be examined to see how much work can be done in first class manner for a small amount of money.

He showed skill in repairing Neponset bridge, introducing the diagonal planking system, which will save the city at least

The repairs made on Quincy avenue, Hancock street, Columbia street, Copelandstreet, Beale street and others, were well done, while the manner of regrading Robertson tire length of Sea street to Houghs Neck at a cost of $400 shows the man's wonderful ability to make a little money go a great Benjamin Johnson Explains Why It is Bought Out of Town.

Editors of the Daily Ledger: In a recent issue of the Monitor there appeared a statement relative to Mr. Hammond, as follows:

"His support in Ward Two is in conse quence of a personal feeling between Chief Engineer Williams and Mr. Benjamin Johnson, a dealer in lumber. Mr. Wil liams when carrying out the contracts of the city in the erection of new buildings said to patronize Rhines, the Weymouth dealer, and as this course enables him to do better work for the city and at a de thousands of dollars and doing his work in creased cost, it is hard to see how any sup port can be given to Mr. Hammond and his Ward Two lieutenant on this ground."

Now, Mr. Editor, in the first place, Mr. Williams had no legal right under the city charter, as I understand it, to take contracts from the city.

In regard to the lumber used at the Hose houses, Commissioner Eaton called upon me with a memoranda of lumber wanted the quarrying of such material by other and requested my figures on the same delivered at Quincy Point.

several different ways.

Mr. Eaton there acknowledged that what said was true and that no exact estimate and continuing he said, "Turn in some king of a figure and we will fix it up."

I gave Mr. Eaton my figures in writing and also stated in writing that these were carried off the surface water which had figures on the kind of lumber I supposed The March Monitor had neither praise was wanted but could probably make him or criticism, but there were a couple of a difference of $300 in price and still cover what he called for.

Nothing more was heard from him and I into the brook, doing away with the mud did not sell a foot of lumber for this building.

> On the West Quincy hose house I had no request whatever for figures. In regard to Mr. Williams and myself, his animosity is owed me a bill for lumber for several years, which I was unable to collect and I finally placed the same in the hands of Lawyer McAnarney for collection, and Mr. Williams paid the bill in full through him, and no doubt feeling sore over it, used his influence with the Commissioner to patronize a Weymouth dealer, as he had the just cause. How changed everything was in the February number, and how persistently the administration has been criticised since, up to the date of the nominations for 1897. The appointments had been made before the February number was issued and here is the editorial comment.

"Disgust is the word that expresses the opinion of one whole political party and a goodly proportion of another at the ap-pointments for this year. We had harbored belief that Mayor Adams would rise above the narrowness of his predecessor and recognize the vigor and capacity for administration work to be found in the party that gave him his nomination and ater his election. The importing of a man to fill the office of Commissioner of Public Works, when a competent man could be found in his own party with a unanimous endorsement, can be attributed only to either youthful indiscretion or political cowardice.

"If the Mayor believes that by placating certain men outside the party that he represented at the last election, his chances of future political preferment are increased we can at this early day tell him that he is mistaken. There is a considerable amount of uneasiness manifest among the friends of the No License movement since the Ledger ministers and the members of the Y. M. C. A., and an extra effort will be made this year to stem the tide of license. -Ad-

Was there ever anything more unfair and he was defaulted. than the above lie which has been printed and reprinted in the Advertiser? Before ommenting let us quote just what the LEDGER did say:

recently opposed them, and will vote "No" every time. Others will doubtless vote "Yes," and it is probably a fact that No-H. H. Faxon, the ministers, the Y. M. C. A. members and others are taking.

If the facts were as stated in our contemporary, the LEDGER might feel complimented on its influence, which the Advertiser recognizes. But there was no threat in the LEDGER squib; only a plain statement of facts for which we have no apologies to offer. We believe the statement has had a good effect rather than the reverse for the No-license cause, and we published it for just that purpose. It has silenced all that talk that was previously current, that Mr. Hammond's friends were going to vote "Yes;" it resulted in the following resolutions being passed at the Republican convention:

That this convention declares itself in favor of No-license, and each delegate thereof pledges himself to an honest effort o secure that result at the municipal election, to be held on Dec. 1st.

More than this Mr. Hammond and many of his friends, who had an opportunity, signed the appeal urging voters to vote No-license.

It was the insinuations of the opponents of Mr. Hammond, composed largely of 'H. H. Faxon, the ministers and the Y. M. C. A. members," to which the LEDGER referred. One minister at a hearing before the City Council, has weakened his influence considerably. He said that when he was on the North Shore he knew what was expedient, but in Quincy he did not pre-Prescriptions that it is our business TO tend to, but did as he was told. WASHINGTON LETTER.

The Antioption Bill Receives a Boost From Germany-Dealings In Futures-Alarm Is Felt.

[Special Correspondence.]

Interest in the antioption bill has been revived by advices received from Germany recently. This bill, which is intended to prevent speculation in food products for future delivery, has received some favorable consideration in other congresses, but the present house committee on agriculture shelved it early last winter. While the passage of a similar law a Germany may not have the effect of reviving the measure in this year. congress it is more than likely to bring it up in the Fifty-fifth congress, possibly at the special session which Presi- years. dent McKinley is expected to call.

The German Law. The German law provides:

First. - No exchange can be established without the consent of the government, which, through a commissioner, will exercise a continued supervision over its actions and dealings.

Second.—A court of honor is created, 2 shillings. which may exclude persons from the exchange after due trial. Judicially declared bankrupts will be excluded for at least six months, and permanently if the bankruptcy was fraudulent.

Third. - When the listing of stocks or bonds is applied for at the exchange, a committee will investigate and decide whether they may be admitted. Before this is done a prospectus must be published, giving all particulars of the securities, and stocks will not be admitted until one year after the entry of the firm name in the commercial register nor beyou have read before, and you wil' for the first business year. Sixth.—Whoever habitually and for selfish purposes induces in experienced persons to speculate on the exchange in articles outside their sphere of business will be punished with imprisonment and a fine not exceeding $3,570.

Seventh .- With the exception of the paragraph referring to the exchange register, which became operative Nov. 1, this law will go into effect Jan. 1, 1897.

Another View of the Matter. There are two sides, of course, to this question. The Produce Exchange was created to facilitate the handling of agricultural products after the harvests It may continue to bear fruit for many application to the Superintendent. and to distribute them over the entire hundreds of years, but the average life when the farmer, after the harvest, of- from 100 to 150 years. cautious in naming a pric because he has no facilities of protecting | conclusion that the consumption of | himself by "future" sales. Thus the dealers will have no scale of prices except for "cash" grain, a fact which will prevent them buying freely, and therefore may exercise a depressing influence on prices, especially after the harvest, when the pressure and necessity to sell are greatest.

Alarm In Germany.

The German dealers are much alarmed, believing this law threatens the very existence of the exchanges and may wipe out Germany's influence and importance in the international markets and induce German capital to remove to foreign countries.

The export of grain from the United States to Germany will also suffer, they say, because the German dealer cannot now buy great quantities at a time, for the reason that he cannot cover himself in advance by sales for future delivery. Another interesting feature of the law is the establishment of the exchange register. Speculation in stocks or other farm products than grain is allowed, provided the parties to the transaction enter their names in the exchange register. As the register is public, secret gambling on the exchange by private individuals must cease.

May Not Stop Gambling.

German dealers say this will not stop gambling; that speculators will transfer their attention to the bourses of Paris and Vienna. A similar law would be more effective in the United States because Paris, Vienna and London are too quality of silk may be woven. far away to be available for speculation by the class of people the German antioption law seeks to protect. THEN AND NOW.

Two Opinions of the Attack of Mayor Adams on the Electric Light Company.

In its issue of July 14 the Advertiser said: From present indications the hearing before the Electric Light and Gas Commissioners Friday morning in the Council chas ber is like to prove a grand fizzle. * * * The whole transaction has been a me unbusinesslike exhibition. * * * We condemn the "peanut," methods resorted in this fight against the existing company and regret the Mayor should be led in a actions by those who bode him no good."

IT WAS A FIZZLE.

"There was to have been a hearing today before the Gas and Electric Light Commissioners, at City Hall upon the complaint of the Mayor as to the quality and price of the light farnished to the city by the Quincy Electric Light and Power Company, but something happened that prevented the hearing taking place. On Wednesday morning Mayor Adams became convinced that the city had no case to present and so he appeared before the Commissioners with whom he had lodged

"What can the people infer from this kind of fickleness. If the city's case was too weak to allow the hearing to go on, it was certainly not strong enough to commence. What sort of an opinion can the commissioners have of the city, when it first says that it has a case against our local company and within two weeks time acknowledges that upon investigation we find that there is no ground for complaint?

SUNDAY WORK.

The School House that Was to be Opened for Political Capital. Editors of Daily Ledger:

It was announced in Saturday's LEDGER that the Massachusetts Field's school building had been accepted by the city, and that it would be open for inspection Sunday. Now in the interest of law and order, is it right for any party to try and make political capital of a new school building, Rev. H. H. The Little Sparrow's Story.

I was sitting on the telegraph wire, right near City Hall, a day or two ago, wagging my little tail and thanking the Lord that as Thanksgiving approached sparrows were not turkeys, when I looked down to earth below my attention being attracted by the men run out from the ancient building and start down the street. I turned around "my dear, there must be a fire some where and I think I'll take a turn down the street and see where it is." So I jumped of the wire and squaring my sails I headed after the stout well fed looking gentlemen,

"There must be something going on, said I to myself, or such awful looks of determination would not be upon the faces

I had no more than observed this to myself than I was surprised to see one of the gentlemen stop, look across the street and make for the place toward which he was looking. There, said I, he has gone to tell his friend what the trouble is, so I perched on a sign up over him, and I was just near enough to hear a few words: running and should think they were after

A Rally in the Interest of Mr. Adams.

The Candidate and Others Make Addresses.

Secretary McAdam of Granite Cutters Union Declines.

Adams, 2d, for Mayor was held Saturday spection? Sunday morning the janitor Henry McGrath, one of the Democratic songs. Rev. E. C. Butler read the lesson, they were unable to gain admittance and evidently under the influence of liquor who Miss Isaac rendered an appropriate song, as far as could be learned the whole thing was removed from the hall by Officer > stated that the object of the meeting was in favor of the best man for Mayor regardless of politics, and he believed Mr. Adams to be that man.

Councilman R. F. Claffin, also Democratic candidate for Councilman at large was the first speaker. He said he came known for 25 years. Mr. Claffin then gave his opinion as to the merits of the two question was whether Quincy had come to one-man power. Once fairly established the tendency will be to continue it and this is what we wish to postpone. He had always found Mayor Adams ready to attend to any want of the city and never found him lacking for backbone.

Theophilus King said we should vote for the welfare of our city. Quincy was a business corporation and must be conducted on business principles. He did not wish to assail Mr. Hammond but there were those in this city who were not looking to the best interest of the city but for their personal interest. Although he would not say Mr. Hammond had promised them any-"They've got us on the run." I had seen Mr. King eulogized Mr. Adams, saying if the gentlemen coming from City Hall there was ever a blue blood it was he, and The Wollaston union temperance meet- the fire, I started again after those who a family that had always been clean. He he should be proud of it, for he came from cism. Mr. King then referred to the appointment of Commissioner, the electric light squabble and street railway matters.

Rev. D. M. Wilson took politics as a serious matter. He believed the best man we could elect was Mr. Adams. He had never seen anything to criticise in Mr. Hammond before he entered politics. He may be all right himself but it was his ways he found fault with. He believed there were men better qualified than Mr. Hammond. If the man elected is to strengthen trusts we do not want him. As a city we should get the best man.

During the remarks of Mr. Wilson Mayor Adams entered the hall and upon being introduced said in part: It is a pleasure to meet you here in a common cause to discuss what we may do for the welfare of our city. It was well to go over what we must do next year to see what is best to do. The destiny of our city is in your hands. If you guide it well her name will be famous in the cities in the Commonwealth, if we fail we will go down. One of the important matters of next year is transportation. The N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R., is between here and Boston. Those who own land want to see Quincy grow. Now if we have good transportation we can get people to come here. It is our duty to get these things. It must be the business of the next administration to take the abolition of these grade crossings in hand. We need new industries. We need to encourage the coming here of new industries much to accomplish this. The surveyors are already at work and it should be urged forward. The sewer will be begun next year and must be carried through.

In closing Mayor Adams said, I only ask you to consider these questions and act as you in your conscience think is best for the welfare of the city. I ask you to consider the administration and the men who have managed the affairs during the past year and if you feel that you will get better men and that the city money will be better men and that the city money will be the city money will be better men and that the city money will be the city money and the city money will be the city money and the city money will be the city money will be the city money and the city money will be the city money and the city money are city and the city money and the cit more economically expended I have nothing to say, but ask you to consider these things for the welfare of the city. Mr. McGrath then called upon James McAdam, secretary of the Granite Cutters' union, but that gentleman declined to speak, and the meeting closed.

no longer any doubt that Harvard and Yale will resume relations in all branches of athletics next spring, though as yet there has been no common agreement between the two colleges, and Harvard's present position is not clearly understood. Harvard is as ready as Yale to resumption of athletic contests.

What has been an obstacle before, in treating with Yale, is that at New Haven there is no head of athletics who is in an authoritative and responsible position, with powers to enter into agreements covering all sports. Harvard has an athletic committee, with a chairman, and they are fully vested with power to govern all branches of athletics as they see fit, but at Yale there is no similar centralized authority, with whom Harvard can officially treat.

Isaac F. Sawyer, a Boston Lawyer, Gets Into Serious Trouble.

Boston, Nov. 30.-The arrest of Minnie Hanson, 35 years old, living in the Roxbury district, on a charge of larceny of some dress goods Saturday afternoon, led up to another arrest Saturday night, on a far more serious charge, of Isaac F. Sawyer, a lawyer, who is accused by the Hanson woman of the murder, last January, of her child, of which she also claims he was the father. Some months ago, it is alleged, the woman pawned some dress goods, and Sawyer, obtaining possession of the tickets, took them out

The wman, learning of this, went to Sawyer's house, and entering by means of a ladder, took away her clothes. Upon being arrested Saturday afternoon on the complaint of Sawyer, she was taken to police headquarters, and there related her story of the more serious crime. Her statement was, in substance, that being about to become a mother, by Sawyer, he came to her house and performed the duties of a midwife. After the birth was seen last evening regarding the reand she never saw it again.

Sawyer was confronted by the woman, that he had had dealings with her in his capacity as a lawyer. The police, upon investigating the matter, found that Sawyer had been seen at the woman's house at the time when she claims that the murder was committed, and that, at the time, the Hanson woman was enciente. Sawyer was then arrested on charge of murder, and will be arraigned today.

In its issue of July 14 the Advertiser said: From present indications the hearing hefore the Electric Light and Gas Commissioners Friday morning in the Council chamher is like to prove a grand fizzle. * * * The whole transaction has been a most unbusinesslike exhibition. * * * We condemn the "peanut," methods resorted to in this fight against the existing company and regret the Mayor should be led in his actions by those who bode him no good."

IT WAS A FIZZLE.

Editorially on July 17, 1896, the Adver- | Editorially on Nov. 24, 1896, the Advertiser said:

"There was to have been a hearing today before the Gas and Electric Light Commissioners, at City Hall upon the complaint of the Mayor as to the quality and price of the light furnished to the city by the Quincy Electric Light and Power Company, but something happened that prereplied the hearing taking place. On Wednesday morning Mayor Adams became convinced that the city had no case to present and so he appeared before the Commissioners with whom he had lodged the complaint and withdrew the petition.

"What can the people infer from this kind of fickleness. If the city's case was too weak to allow the hearing to go on, it was certainly not strong enough to commence. What sort of an opinion can the commissioners have of the city, when it first says that it has a case against our local company and within two weeks time acknowledges that upon investigation we find that there is no ground for complaint? "We are reminded just now of the fight made to secure the right to construct an independent plant, before the Legislature last spring, when Mayor Adams and his close friend, Councilman Bryant, president of the City Council, appeared before the Legislative committee at the State House and presented merely rumors. These gentlemen appeared in behalf of the city, with facts of the strongest kind. The forming the duties of his office ?" Electric Light company were forced to an expense of several hundred dollars to defend themselves and it proved a needless expense.

"In the year 1895 the city council voted to attack this same company and Mayor Hodges, as a thorough business man, returned the order to the council immediately, stating that he had no grounds to make a fight upon as there was already legislation that covered the point in question. It will be remembered that sometime after the limit for admitting new legislation had expired an order was offered by Councilman Bryant to censure Mayor Hodges for ignoring the act of the City Council. Mayor Hodges communication was again read and the vote upon censuring was taken up and the councilman who presented the order was the only one who voted in favor of its adoption.

"In the first case Mayor Hodges came on of the attempted fight with much credit to himself, while Mayor Adams must suffer the humiliation of being defeated without offering any sign of battle. It is to be regretted that this is the sitnation. It is not to be wondered at that the Electric Light Company are not satsfied to renew their contract when the city puts them to a needless expense. The present fizzle will no doubt prevent any further trouble for this year at least."

After inconsiderable variations in the reserve during April the export of gold was resumed in May, and this movement, together with the continued withdrawals not for export, again put in operation the process of depletion. There was an almost daily decline until July 23, when the official figures for the reserve were $89,669,975. In Our Churches.

There was practical Christian services among the churches yesterday. Rev. Mr. Russell of Ohio preached a sermon illumined with truth, in the morning, at First church. He gave practical illustrations of what infidelity and Christianty had contributed to the world in past ages by contrasting them. He showed how the latter had inspired literature, art and music, and upon the fact that the last best work of today, in trying to raise individuals, was the great evil of drunkenness. His happy manner, pleasing personality and earnestness were appreciated also in the Bethany church later in the day.

At the Episcopal church in the evening, the clarion tones of its pastor held a very large gathering, no less than did the melodious musical service. The rector began by quoting Gladstone's utterance that "Intemperance and drunkenness had slayed more victims, than war, pestilence and famine." He then defined the attitude of the English church in this grave matter. His discourse then took up the matter of the evils of drunkenness being so enormous that the state had set to work to find a

Rev. Mr. Breed said that local option gave citizens the power of good or evil results. That Quincy now had a clean, fair record in the State. That with open saloons for sale of liquors, we had larger expenses for maintaining our poor, for merits of the case, while it may be that satisfactory, do you not immediately prosecuting offenders in court: unpaid bills at our stores to say nothing of the moral side which brought untold suffering and reasonably think they look forward, to the office of Mayor? The Mayor is in the says: misery. We saved all this great cost in money by giving no licenses. Bills were better paid, costs in court reduced, there was less poverty to meet. No man could in reason, vote to bring back the old bad

Rev. Mr. Breed's clear, rapid utterance and ferver were striking. Christian service like that of today that begins at our doors, saving misery from women and little children is vital, and Quincy has nothing to look to, with more pride, than this manly attitude of our voters.

HONEST CRITICISM.

Disgusted With Democrats Mayor Adams all the Year.

Termed Impotent, Arrogant, Imbecile and Incompetent.

Attacks Made Upon His Honor in Nearly Every Issue of Monitor.

To the Editor of the Daily Ledger:

Those who have adopted the Monitor for selfish motive, probably know little of its life, even for the past few months, and a Democratic review of its issues for 1896 will be of to be disappointed in marriage. interest.

In the January number, printed after the inauguration, it speaks in complimentary terms of Mayor Adams and offered suggestions as to appointments.

How changed everything was in the February number, and how persistently the administration has been criticised since, York Press. up to the date of the nominations for 1897. Republican The appointments had been made before the February number was issued and here is the editorial comment.

"Disgust is the word that expresses the opinion of one whole political party and a goodly proportion of another at the appointments for this year. We had harbored a belief that Mayor Adams would rise above the narrowness of his predecessor party that gave him his nomination and Republican ater his election. The importing of a man to fill the office of Commissioner of Republican Public Works, when a competent man could be found in his own party with a unanimous endorsement, can be attributed only to either youthful indiscretion or political cowardice.

Democratic
Democratic Democratic
Democratic
Democratic of future political preferment are increased we can at this early day tell him that he is mistaken. The nomination of the gentle-Republican man so warmly endorsed would have been a strategetic political move and as wise and Democratic prudential business act, with no attendant Republican Adams would be successful in the political and business administration of his office, but we are convinced that a success in either sphere is impossible.

The March Monitor had neither praise or criticism, but there were a couple of editorial squibs in the April issue which still showed that the paper had notchanged its opinions, viz:

"So the Independents have seen little to commend in the acts of Mayor Adams.

This complaint more properly belongs to Detroit Tribune. the Democrats."

"No one is more responsible for the peculiar condition of Quincy politics than Mayor Adams. If his Honor had acquiesced in the better judgment of his friends some hopes would not appear so

The same views were held in May, when an editorial said:

"We extend our condolences to our imported city government, which has recently Truth. discharged two faithful employes without just cause. This same administration, though, believes in making the places of some pensioners perpetuities. But we rather think that some calculations will be

No reference whatever was made to the administration during the summer months Democratic but in October we find the sentiment had not changed, and in an editorial under the caption of "A Plain Duty" it did not mince matters, but said:

"The November election must not be allowed to obscure another contest of far more importance to Quincy and more Republican regular, Nom. paper
Warien avenue.

More importance to Quincy and more importance to of the national or state elections. The question of whom shall be the next mayor of Quincy should be at this time uppermost in the minds of those who desire change in the management of municipal affairs. The impotent, but arrogant holders of positions must be relegated to Democratic unpretentious obscurity, and their policies placed in some museum of antiques that shoe? Republican future citizens may gaze upon them as the relics of a distant age and as a sample of the most incomprehensible imbecility. "We believe that the majority of our best people desire a change and they also Republican desire that the change be made to their advantage. The machinations of politicians may cheat this purpose, but not if those who are most interested in the election of an efficient administrator now begin the work of selecting some suitable man. * * "The most strategetic move, therefore, to our mind, would be the nomination of some tried man, a man of business, and also a man of visible and honorable em-ployment, and such a man would receive the endorsement of the better elements in the Republican and Democratic parties There are many reputable men in this city, and it is our firm belief that any one of them could be induced to lead the fight against incompetency on one side and blackguardism and dishonorable political methods on the other. "The Monitor has little sympathy with the present administration, The above appeared in October, just before the caucuses and nominations, and Mayor Adams was not considered for a moment in connection with the nomination. But the bolting Republicans at the ninth hour started a boom in his favor and All in want of male or female help he was the choice between two evils. The should give us a call. His Granite Stands the Test. Editors of the Daily Ledger:

Our Willard school is now decaying. A crumbling structure not yet our own; Indebted to Wilson for a debt unpaid. The granite therein is yet his own.

To His Honor 'Fairbanks' would settle the claim, Our 'Commissioner' would not touch th bone: How can we trust such men again? His granite stands the test alone.

Had we the 'Commissioner' of today, In justice he would have his own; There is yet a hope-' God's will be done, His granite stands the test alone.

Where is the cash? the Bondsmen paid, Who claims the right those bills to own; That Wilson's claim should be the first. His granite stands the test alone.

For the new-born city he toiled in vain, Thus deprived of all his own; That mortals could be so unjust, His granite stands the test alone.

This grievous wrong, to Wilson done. Is on record at the glorious throne; Be watchful of the bogus-gang, A sinful man may hold his own.

The Daily Ledger. MONITOR'S POSITION.

Mr. Thomas J. McGrath Replies to "Historian."

Editors of the Daily Ledger:

In view of the criticisms and garbled excerpts of the editorial opinion of the Monitor for the past year, by "Historian" in Saturday's LEDGER, will you please allow one intimately connected with that journal to make answer.

"Historian" must first be told that no selfish purposes, and further no one not in full sympathy with the Monitor or with its publishers, has at any time dictated its policy. If at any time the utterances of WOLLASTON-Ross' news stand and the Monitor have pleased a large number of our people, our peace of mind has been no ment ! more complete than when a like large number have been dissatisfied with our utterances. It has been the sincere purpose and though it may have been mistaken, it can never be charged with insincerity or double-dealing.

> The Monitor as a friend of Mayor Adams was interested in the selection of a certain gentleman for Commissioner of naturally felt disappointed when its advice was spurned and another gentleman selected.

The criticism of the Mayor's act was written in February and, as expressive of Adams' friends, needs no apology at this time. Mr. Knowlton was a new man, not a resident of this city, and not one person in the city could vouch for his ability or aptitude for the important office to which he was called.

The opinion of the Monitor in February was therefore that Mayor Adams had added the personal disappointment at not having the gentleman named by the Monicitizens, appointed. But the same criticism of Mayor Adams could not be made today, and no issue of the Monitor, except May, contained a criticism of the Mayor or Mr. Knowlton in regard to the commis-

We are now conscious of the admirable oresight of Mr. Adams in selecting Mr. Knowlton, by his work through the year, and by the testimonials of people without number, so that at this day the recognition of the Commissioner's ability is almost

Furthermore, the Monitor, though it had good reason to find fault with some of the officials of the city, never intended that any utterance should be taken as a hope that the present commissioner should be displaced, and this applies to other officials also. To do this would be inimical to the best interests of the city, and consequently would be a strange move on the part of the

In regard to the criticism in the May issue, it may be well to state that whatever sympathy we might have for the two men ischarged by Mr. Knowlton has largely vanished by this time. We will admit that our opinion was based on one side of the story, but subsequent investigation proves that the commissioner acted in the matter only when every means had failed to bring about an amicable settlement. The question at issue was one of discipline, and if the Monitor rebuked the Commisthe facts, commend him.

excerpts from Monitor editorials: "The changes in the administrative offices of the city are not numerous enough or the new appointments made of sufficient high character to warrant belief that the new Mayor applied the careful scrutiny to these offices as he did to the Commissionership. And one may naively ask: Why was this so?"—February Monitor.

After the renomination of Mayor Adams in November the Monitor had the following to say concerning his candidacy:

"The Democrats and Independents of this city have made the best possible use of their opportunity by renominating Mayor Adams. The Monitor has not at all times looked with favor upon the administration, but was still willing to con-And perhaps it may seem, if you try very cede that the Mayor acted always in good faith and for the best interests of the whole people. We have found fault with some of his appointees, believing that such were drawbacks to the complete fulfilment of the intentions of Mr. Adams. Our opinion in this regard has not altered, but in view this phase of the administrative policy is of Mr. Edward Southworth of Quincy. secondary interest. The greatest concern of all well-wishers of the city should be to sink all the petty annoyances of the past year and work with a will for the success of Mr. Adams. He deserves, in appreciation of his prudent care-taking, ton recently discussed the subject, "The most loyal support, and we honestly be-Use of Printer's Ink." Plain Duty." Admitting that Mr. Adams was not a candidate, is it to be supposed that any help could or would be rendered to the Republican candidate. Does "Historian" believe that the Monitor would curb its honest feeling or stultify itself by supporting men and methods that were the aggravation of the past year?

Though Mr. Adams disappointed and vexed the Monitor in his misplacement of confidence, could it bring honest men to its side if it failed to realize the gravity of the situation, or failed to do all in its power to help the honest and disinterested men who are working for his reelection? The one has yet made use of the Monitor for Monitor and the large constituency which it represents, enter into this contest with more zest and earnestness than has been apparent for some time, and this is not done in the interests of the Democratic party but in the interests of good govern-

Mayor Adams, with commendable candor, made acknowledgement of his own shortcomings in his speech to the delegates of the Monitor to be honest at all times, to the municipal convention, and gives us promise that the errors of judgment will be remedied next year, not in the interest of party, but in the interest of the whole

Again, if "Historian" will read the editorials in October and November it will Public Works, and, as a human agency, be made clear to him why the Monitor is now supporting Mayor Adams. "Historian." being a close reader of the Monitor knows full well that at all times the candidacy of Mr. Hammond has been frowned upon and for good and sufficient reasons. the temper of a large number of Mr. If the Monitor said in October that it had little sympathy with the present administration," it also said something a little stronger against the other side, not so pleasing perhaps to "Historian," who should in all justice and fairness, have copied the whole editorial.

The honest opinions of the Monitor have not been cast aside in a day, and it is our made a grievous mistake, and to this was firm belief that they will not be cast aside on the morrow. Neither is Mayor Adams "the choice between two evils," nor does tor and endorsed by many well-known he owe his renomination to bolting Republicans. His party associates were willing to cast aside the personal feelings of a year, in response to an almost general demand for Mr. Adams' renomination, and that this course meets with the commendation of many Republicans is a tribute to the Democrats, who subordinated personal feeling for the general good. The Monitor does not apologize for its support of Mayor Adams; if it refused to support him no apology would be ample enough to justify such a proceeding.

Again the Monitor and all interested in reelection of Mayor Adams are not worried over his policy for the coming year. The Monitor, at least, has nothing to hope for, and it can honestly be stated that it entered into this campaign from disinterested motives, and without any hope, much less promise, of any recognition. Though we may be accused of a "warped judgment," that same judgment would have to undergo unlimited warping before we could encourage the malcontents who are today clamoring for the recognition that only the most incomprehensible political result THOMAS J. MCGRATH. For Quincy Monitor.

A Protest.

Editors of the Daily Ledger:

Your space will be so overtaxed today that a detailed answer to your Saturday's editorial cannot find place. Therefore I sioner in May it would now, knowing all give one explicit and sweeping denial of its false accusation of the ministers of Quincy. If "Historian" will read the November There are more than a score in this body; issue under the caption "Mayor Adams" they are above insinuations; they have not he will find that our views had not changed said at any time "that Mr. Hammond's unlike the one expressed in November, license question; the LEDGER therefore We did not think that Mayor Adams was did not silence them-it flatters itself. If officials and after a year's work we do not said what it charges, it has yet to do it; think so now, and for the purpose of show. but that "the ministers" have said this is Yours sincerely.

Ward 3 No-License Meeting.

The No-license meeting which was arranged to take place in Doble's hall, on Thanksgiving night, and subsequently given out by the committee in charge that none would be held, did take place as orginally intended. The committee in charge not wishing to disappoint the Good Templars, who had given up their meeting that a rally might be held in their hall. again decided that there should be one and the result was that all who were fortunate enough to attend felt well paid for doing

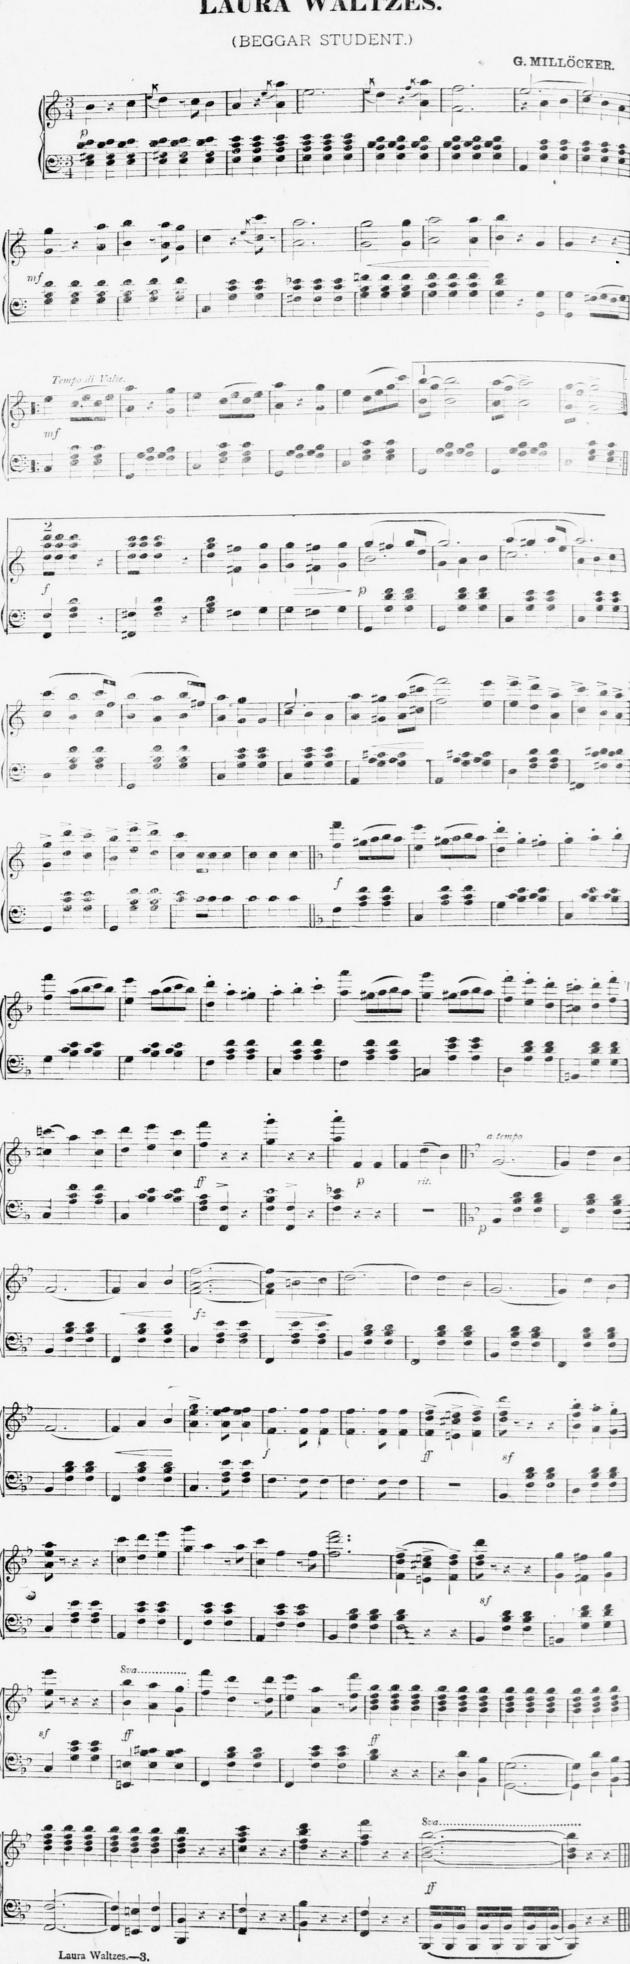

A large number were present, many coming direct from the Presbyterian church. Rev. Robert Westly Peach opened the meeting and after a few remarks of other and more weighty considerations introduced as the speaker of the evening

Mr. Southworth gave what he termed a 'home talk'' which proved very interesting and to the point. Other speakers were as follows: Mr. Robert Allen, Mr. Alex. Howie, Mr. James Joss, Mr. Peter Dackers, Mr. John McLeod, Mr. Alex. Clark, Mr. Benj. Bishop and Mr. Geo. Chubbuck. The remarks of all showed a decided interest in the temperance question.

-Georgia papers are so disgusted with the result of the election that they assert everything is degenerating-even the sweet potato "of our later epoch is a miserable substitute for the succulent, golden, sugarsweating tuber that delighted our fathers and made 'possum worth preserving." the city's interest and also his own The New York Sun, with its usual careful attention to trifles, suggests as a remedy grafting the sweet potato on to the 'possum.
